Nixon-Johnson Meeting Expected In Near Future

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Plans for an early meeting of President-elect Richard M. Nixon and President Johnson are expected to be announced in the next few days.

Nixon, it was learned today, also plans an early conference with his campaign running mate, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland. Agnew might join Nixon for the session with Johnson.

Nothing has been said about a reunion of Nixon and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democrat he narrowly defeated in Tuesday's balloting, but it's expected they'll get together too, as a gesture of friendship.

Although President Nguyen Van Thieu has invited Nixon to go to South Vietnam—one thing the president-elect said he would do should Johnson desire it—Nixon's chief spokesman here made it clear Thursday Nixon won't go unless Johnson suggests it would help further the peace cause.

The President-elect declared Thursday a moratorium until Dec. 5 on appointments to major federal offices, including the Cabinet.

Nixon, here for a long weekend of work and relaxation, has begun talking in general terms about the problem of seeking top talent for his administration, but as one aide put it, "he hasn't started tracking yet" on specific names for specific positions.

The President-elect is considering how to maintain liaison with the Budget Bureau, which will fashion a federal spending program.

The whole subject of appointments is being approached with apparent caution by Nixon because, it is said, he believes this will be the first way in which he can help unify the country.

Nixon has talked often about incorporating Democrats into his team of appointees. One source insisted that the results would fulfill the promise. "We won't have just a token Democrat."

In the same sense, the source said, the problem of giving Negroes a voice in the Nixon administration would not be handled with "flamboyant gestures of tokenism."

Ron Ziegler, traveling press secretary, said Nixon had a number of invitations to visit government heads in Western Europe. Other sources said that some of these European leaders might find it convenient to visit New York—and Nixon—before inauguration day.

C&O Bridge To Be Closed

Cincinnati Span Said Dangerous

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Beginning midnight Saturday, the C&O Bridge spanning the Ohio River between here and Cincinnati will be closed indefinitely because of its "extremely hazardous condition."

Kentucky Highway Commissioner William Hazelrigg ordered the shutdown for vehicular and pedestrian traffic after an engineering consulting firm released its preliminary report on the bridge condition Thursday.

Trains using an adjacent span sharing the C&O Bridge's structure will continue to operate. "These reports (by Hazelrigg and Erdal) clearly showed the bridge to be in an extremely hazardous condition which the arrival of cold weather could make even more critical," Hazelrigg said.

Whether the bridge will be renovated or replaced, Hazelrigg added, will be determined "after further inspection, study and the final report of the consultants."

Hazelrigg's announcement followed a meeting here of the Ohio and Kentucky highway departments, the federal Bureau of Public Roads, and Cincinnati, Covington and Kenton County, Ky., officials.

As a result of the shutdown, about 9,000 vehicles using the bridge on an average day will be diverted to one of four other Ohio River bridges carrying vehicular traffic.

Hazelrigg said the report on the 80-year-old bridge recommended it be closed before cold weather because of conditions, which, in combination, could result in a sudden failure of any of its three main river spans.

A survey of the bridges began in April after the Silver Bridge from Point Pleasant, W. Va., to Kanawha, Ohio, collapsed Dec. 15 and claimed 46 lives.

Jordan Reports

Attack By Israel

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — A Jordanian army spokesman charged that two Israeli aircraft carried out a napalm raid today on the east bank of the Jordan river, two miles south of the Al-Jamami Bridge.

The spokesman said the two planes machine-gunned and dropped napalm on a water crossing at Alkatief this morning during a clash which lasted an hour. There were no Jordanian casualties, he added, but he claimed one Israeli vehicle was destroyed and that Israeli troops were believed to have suffered casualties.

Earlier, Israeli forces opened fire with machine guns and tank cannon on Jordanians stationed east of the Al-Jamami Bridge and Jordanians returned the fire, the spokesman said. Again he reported no casualties.

Sun Satellite To Warn U.S. Of Radiation

Joins 3 Others To Help Save Astronauts' Lives

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

— Spacecraft Pioneer 9 today rocketed into orbit around the sun as a lonely, far-out sentry to warn of solar radiation storms that could endanger astronauts on the moon.

The three-stage Delta rocket also hurled into earth orbit a 40-pound communications satellite that will be used as a practice target for the 18 stations in America's global man-in-space tracking network.

The rocket brilliantly illuminated the early morning darkness as it blazed upwards at 4:46 a.m. with its double payload.

Twenty-five minutes later the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported that the communications satellite had been kicked into an orbit more than 200 miles high and that Pioneer 9 was in orbit about the sun.

The sun-orbiter carried eight experiments to record and transmit information about the solar wind, cosmic rays, cosmic dust and electric and magnetic fields as it zipped on its lone journey.

Three earlier Pioneer—6, 7 and 8—still are operating as they circle the sun on widely spaced paths. The combination of the four probes should give physicists the broadest picture yet of conditions in interplanetary space.

A major assignment is to provide advance warning of radiation that could spill into space from solar flares and threaten a man-to-the-moon mission.

The sun presently is entering the most active period of its 11-year flare cycle and will reach peak activity next year when American astronauts hope to land on the moon.

With enough alert of major flares, the moon flights could be delayed, or the astronauts could alter the path of their spaceship in case of an eruption after they're under way.

Patrol Sets Extra Push

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The

Ohio Highway Patrol expressed concern today at the rising rate of Ohio's weekend traffic fatalities, and moved to put extra patrols on the roads in the coming weekend.

Highway Patrol Supt. Robert M. Chiaramonte said the Patrol would put 975 men on the state's rural highway system—most of them patrolmen who are volunteering their services—"to help turn the tide of this tragedy," Chiaramonte said.

Praising the volunteers, the superintendent said "these men are professionals; they see a job to do and they will do it. While some people may be quick to criticize law enforcement officers, these same people are generally willing to favorably recognize any man or group that goes a little beyond the normal call of duty to fulfill his oath of office."

A total of 38 persons died in traffic accidents in Ohio last weekend—in a period extending from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday—one of the highest totals for such a period in the state's history.

Czechs Burn Soviet Flags, Shout 'Russians Go Home!'

PRAGUE (AP) — Thousands of anti-Soviet demonstrators marched through Prague Thursday night, shouting "Russians go home" and burning Soviet flags in the biggest demonstration since the Russian invasion in August.

Large numbers of Czechoslovak troops and police, under orders to crack down hard on the demonstrators, used water cannon, tear gas and clubs to break up the rioting.

Many persons were knocked down by police clubs, and many appeared to have been arrested. Ambulances carried away unknown numbers of wounded.

The six hours of rioting climaxed a tense, uneasy observance of the 51st anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution, normally a day dedicated to Czechoslovak-Soviet friendship.

The tough police reaction contrasted sharply with the lenient manner in which anti-Soviet demonstrations were handled on Oct. 28, the 50th birthday of the Czechoslovak republic. Social leaders apparently were afraid that unchecked demonstrations would bring Soviet tanks rolling back into Prague.

The first signs of anti-Soviet trouble in Prague occurred before dawn Thursday when Soviet flags, raised on public buildings during the night, were torn down.

Police moved in during the morning to disperse several hundred persons who massed in front of the Foreign Trade Administration building and chanted, "Tear it down! Tear it down!" until custodians removed two large Hammer and Sickle flags hung from the building.

After one Soviet flag was burned on the end of a stick, police swinging clubs cleared the area. Several persons were taken away by the police.

During the afternoon another demonstration formed in a dark drizzle at St. Wenceslas Square but dispersed after large numbers of police arrived.

Dubcek supporters returned to the streets that night and defied strong police patrols, shouting, "Russians go home!" A crowd of about 1,000 watched as another Soviet flag was burned.

Winter Chill, Heavy Snow Make U.S. Weather Picture

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy snow blanketed parts of upstate New York and adjacent New England today as widespread November chill intensified in the midcontinent.

The Southern Vermont mountain community of Ludlow shovelled through 8 to 10 inches of snow which fell into the night Thursday. Heavy snow warnings were in effect through today for western and northern New England areas.

Portions of eastern upstate New York also were hit by their first significant snows of the season. Four to 6 inches blanketed Warrensburg, 50 miles north of Albany, during the night. Snow flurries and rain were scattered throughout the remainder of the upstate area.

Far to the west, the mercury slid to near zero once more in portions of the northern Rockies. Butte, Mont., registered 7 above well before dawn. Readings in the 20s ranged southward through Colorado and east into Illinois.

Travelers warnings were in effect for the New Mexico mountains as the cold air spilled into the Southwest. Four inches of snow was expected at higher elevations.

Between the cold in the West and the snow in the Northeast, chilly and wet weather covered a large part of the country. Snow flurried through the night in sections of the Midwest and the Great Lakes region.

Rain soaked much of the Northeast outside the snow area. More than an inch fell on Long Island and in the Boston area before dawn. Gale-force winds swept parts of the New England coast.

An almost identical combination of rain and wind hit the Pacific Northwest. Gale warnings flew along the coast and nearly an inch of rain drenched northwestern Washington.

Clear skies, while more general than a day earlier, still were confined largely to California and the Southwest and most of the Southeast.

Bank Manager

Victim Of Police

Shotgun Blast

CINNAMINSON, N.J. (AP) — A bank manager was accidentally shot and killed Thursday by a patrolman as officers thwarted an armed bank robbery, police said.

Thomas Adams, police chief of this small Burlington County community five miles from Philadelphia, said that one of his men fired a shotgun blast at Douglas C. Tyler of Cinnaminson as he ran handcuffed out of the Colonial Branch of the Garden State Trust Co. after police surrounded it.

Tyler, the bank manager, who turned 27 Thursday, died an hour later of an abdominal wound.

Shortly after the shooting, three Philadelphia men surrendered inside the bank and were arrested, Adams said.

Viet Morale Drop Feared Due To Talks

SAIGON (AP) — A senior U.S. military source expressed concern today that the fighting morale of U.S. and South Vietnamese troops may suffer a serious drop once full-fledged peace talks get under way in Paris.

The concern stems from the old military adage that no soldier wants to be the last man killed in any war.

One military source said the gravest concern is for the morale of the South Vietnamese troops, many of whom have been fighting off and on for a dozen years or more.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese are bombarding the Saigon government's regular army and its militiamen with propaganda on the theme that the war is almost over. President Nguyen Van Thieu in a nationwide radio-TV address warned: "Don't believe the Communist propaganda that the war soon will be over and to throw down your arms."

Desertion always has been one of the biggest problems among Saigon's divisions; the prospect, false though it obviously is, of an early peace could escalate the trend.

The enemy on the other hand has kicked off a major propaganda campaign to convince its troops that they can win the war with "fight-and-talk" tactics. The enemy promises major military operations that will reinforce the hands of their negotiators in Paris.

The U. S. Command feels this propaganda may be an accurate reflection of the enemy's intentions. Gen. Creighton Abrams' staff already is planning a major offensive, both to counter Hanoi's plans and to strengthen the allied side at the bargaining table.

"We can play fight-talk as well or better than they can," one source said.

Police Come Back

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Painesville police began reporting back to work early today after a week-long "sick call" over a pay dispute with the city.

U.S. Would Be Part Of Team On Allied Side

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu proposed today that his South Vietnamese government replace the United States as the leader of the anti-Communist negotiating team at the Paris peace talks.

Thieu proposed a new formula for organization of the Paris conference under which the Communist side would be led by the North Vietnamese. He said it could also include the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

Even if the United States agrees to take a back seat at the Paris talks, North Vietnam appears certain to reject Thieu's attempt to give his government the No. 1 place on one side of the table while relegating the Viet Cong to a secondary role on the other. Hanoi has said repeatedly that the National Liberation Front is the only authentic representative of the South Vietnamese people.

Thieu's proposal was made in an attempt to counter the adverse reaction in the United States and elsewhere to his refusal to join the Paris peace talks this week. President Johnson, in halting the bombing of North Vietnam, proposed that the Saigon regime and the NLF send representatives to the talks without specifying the status they would be accorded.

Train Strikes

School Bus; No

Injuries Reported

WICKLIFFE, Ohio (AP) — A Penn Central passenger train hit a Wickliffe school bus at a grade crossing today. No injuries were reported.

Witnesses said the flasher lights protecting the Warden Road crossing were working but had been flashing for about half an hour because two freight trains were stopped nearby.

Several vehicles had crossed the tracks despite the flashing lights, but when the bus started across the passenger came through, ripping the front off the bus.

There were no children on the bus, and the driver apparently was not injured.

Sheriff Loses,

BUTLER, Mo. (AP) — Floyd Dunham, unsuccessful candidate for election as Bates County sheriff, didn't lose everything.

He heard about an offer made before the election by Bob Gunn, Adrian, publisher and printer. Gunn offered to refund a portion of campaign printing costs to unsuccessful political candidates.

Dunham applied for a refund and got it—$350.

Mideast Talks Break Down; New Explosion Feared

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel and the Arabs blamed each other Thursday night for the interruption in their indirect talks to bring peace to the Middle East.

After accusing the Israelis of blocking progress, the foreign ministers of Egypt and Jordan flew home from the United Nations. An Israeli spokesman said the Arabs had taken "the most rigid and intransigent position conceivable, which has no parallel in any other international conflict."

The Arabs have refused either to negotiate directly with Israel or to meet with the Israelis under U.N. auspices, the spokesman said, and have declined to comment on the peace plan Israel submitted last month.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad said the talks, with U.N. envoy Gunnar Jarring as the middle man, were "no longer practical discussions, only exchanges of letters—and this we can do from our capitals."

Jordanian Foreign Minister Abdul Monem Rifa'i said his stay in New York served "no positive purpose." He said Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban's latest expression of views "did not reflect any readiness by Israel to change its negative positions."

Diplomats in Jerusalem believed the two foreign ministers were going home to consult their governments before resumption of talks in New York at a later date.

In Cairo, the semiofficial newspaper Al-Ahram said Jarring's mission had practically "reached the end of the line," bringing nearer the danger of a new major explosion in the area. The paper, which President Gamal Abdel Nasser often uses as a mouthpiece, said the letters exchanged through Jarring by Eban and Riad were a clear indication "that attempts at a political settlement have reached an end and that it's impossible for the Arab countries to accept continuing Israeli aggression" on their territories.

A resolution adopted by the Security Council last Nov. 22 calls for Arab recognition of Israel's right to exist in return for Israeli withdrawal from the territories it occupied during the 1967 war.

Eban gave Jarring a memorandum Tuesday for study by the Arabs. It reportedly answered the Egyptian demand for withdrawal by calling for boundary negotiations. Eban asked whether Egypt would "be prepared to seek an agreement with us for replacing the ceasefire lines by a secure and recognized boundary acceptable to both our governments."

"Our boundaries are not negotiable," said Riad. But Israel was reported placing main stress on the question of its security, not on retaining Arab soil. For example, diplomats said, Israel would be willing to return the Sinai Desert to Egypt if Egypt guaranteed free passage through the Gulf of Aqaba to Israeli ships.

Riad also turned down Eban's proposal for an international conference to solve the Palestine Arab refugee problem before peace was established. He said consideration of the refugee question "would only tend to obstruct the implementation of the General Assembly resolutions on this question."

British Nab Train Theft Ringleader

LONDON (AP)—Bruce Reynolds, wanted as the master mind of Britain's Great Train Robbery five years ago, was arrested today in Torquay, a favorite holiday resort of British millionaires on the south coast.

Reynolds was named by police as the planner of the $7 million mail train robbery on Aug. 8, 1963. About $1 million of the loot has been recovered.

The capture of Reynolds left only Ronald Biggs, a relatively minor figure in the robbery, still at large. Biggs escaped from London's Wandsworth Prison in July 1965.

Reynolds, 37, was arrested in the fashionable Babbacombe suburb of Torquay, a sedate resort city on the Cornish Riviera. Scotland Yard's announcement of the capture made no mention of any resistance by Reynolds.

He was being brought to London for questioning.

Reynolds has been Britain's most wanted fugitive since 12 days after the 1963 robbery. Police hope they can learn from him something about the $6 million dollars of British currency which is still missing.

James Rogers, 57, was reported in serious condition at Bethesda Hospital and Carl Stratton, 46, was reported in fair condition.

Earlier, Israeli forces opened fire with machine guns and tank cannon on Jordanians stationed east of the Almajami Bridge and Jordanians returned the fire, the spokesman said. Again he reported no casualties.

OSU Fee Boost Studied Again

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Board of Regents is expected to renew its consideration of a $5 increase in student services at Ohio State University at its next meeting Nov. 15.

OSU's request for the increase, which would change the student service fee from $20 to $25 per quarter, was tabled last April along with fee increase proposals submitted by seven other state campuses.

The regents had delayed action until more stable enrollment figures were in, and it would be determined how much would be asked of the 108th Ohio General Assembly, for support of higher education.

U.S. Would Be Part Of Team On Allied Side

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu proposed today that his South Vietnamese government replace the United States as the leader of the anti-Communist negotiating team at the Paris peace talks.

Thieu proposed a new formula for organization of the Paris conference under which the Communist side would be led by the North Vietnamese. He said it could also include the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

Even if the United States agrees to take a back seat at the Paris talks, North Vietnam appears certain to reject Thieu's attempt to give his government the No. 1 place on one side of the table while relegating the Viet Cong to a secondary role on the other. Hanoi has said repeatedly that the National Liberation Front is the only authentic representative of the South Vietnamese people.

Thieu's proposal was made in an attempt to counter the adverse reaction in the United States and elsewhere to his refusal to join the Paris peace talks this week. President Johnson, in halting the bombing of North Vietnam, proposed that the Saigon regime and the NLF send representatives to the talks without specifying the status they would be accorded.

Train Strikes School Bus; No Injuries Reported

WICKLIFFE, Ohio (AP) — A Penn Central passenger train hit a Wickliffe school bus at a grade crossing today. No injuries were reported.

Witnesses said the flasher lights protecting the Warden Road crossing were working but had been flashing for about half an hour because two freight trains were stopped nearby.

Several vehicles had crossed the tracks despite the flashing lights, but when the bus started across the passenger came through, ripping the front off the bus.

There were no children on the bus, and the driver apparently was not injured.

this was opening the door to recognition of the NLF, and he feared this would be the first step toward a coalition government which the Communists eventually would take over.

Thieu today proposed this formula for the peace talks:

"Each party would have only one delegation. Our side is the victim of aggression. We would have representatives of the United States and, if necessary, other allied nations."

He said his government would play the leading role on its side of the table, while the North Vietnamese government would lead the other delegation. Hanoi, he said, could have members from whatever groups it desired.

Thieu denied with some heat reports from Washington that he had at one time agreed to four-party talks in Paris. He said he never discussed such talks with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker in any of their 14 meetings that preceded Johnson's halt in the bombing.

Recalling his response to Johnson's speech last Thursday, Thieu said Hanoi still must guarantee to enter into sincere, direct talks with the Saigon government. He said the full-scale talks could not be considered a continuation of the preliminary negotiations in Paris between the United States and North Vietnam.

Thieu said Hanoi's response to the bombing halt had proved to be escalation instead of de-escalation. He said the Communists "have stepped up attacks on towns and cities. Between Nov. 1st and 7th there were 33 attacks by rockets and mortars, 11 acts of sabotage, eight cases of terror and two of arson."

He said that while Hanoi claimed that Johnson's bombing halt was unconditional, Hanoi had ordered its troops and cadres to attack until complete victory was won.

Thieu said final victory to Hanoi meant taking over all of South Vietnam.

Jury Refuses Indictments In 'Orangeburg Massacre'

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — A federal grand jury refused Thursday night to indict nine South Carolina highway patrolmen in the deaths of three young Negroes—a shooting Negro leaders called the "Orangeburg Massacre."

U.S. Justice Department officials had asked for indictments against the state troopers, reportedly alleging violations of the Negroes' civil rights.

The exact charges and the names of the highway patrolmen were not revealed on orders of U.S. District Judge J. Robert Martin, who said the families of the men should not be subjected to the publicity.

The 23-member grand jury returned "no bills" against the highway patrolmen after hearing eight days of testimony from law enforcement officers, newsmen and Negro students present Feb. 8 when the patrolmen fired on a crowd of Negro students, killing three and wounding 30 others.

State Negro leaders expressed disappointment at the grand jury decision. Col. P.F. Thompson, commander of the state highway patrol, called it "only proper and correct if they expect law enforcement officers to do their job in South Carolina."

Mrs. Modjeska Simpkins, a Negro leader in Columbia, said she was not "sufficiently clear on the language of the court in dismissing the grand jury ... but I do know that the student group was fired upon on their own grounds with less hesitancy than honorable men would fire into a bunch of ferocious dogs."

Athens County School District To Close Down

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — The Nelsonville-York school district in Athens County is to be closed down Nov. 27 for at least two weeks and possibly as long as six weeks.

The district school board said Thursday night that because an additional seven mill operating levy was defeated in Tuesday's election for the second time this year there are not enough local funds to keep the schools open beyond Nov. 27.

A special election on the levy which lost by 200 votes Tuesday, Oct. 1, of 3,400 cast, will be held Dec. 10. If the levy passes then, the schools will be reopened two days later.

If the levy fails the schools will stay closed until Jan. 6.

In addition, failure to levy for the third time will lead the board to request the state department of education to merge the district with adjoining districts in Athens, Perry and Hocking Counties.

Nelson - York school district has an enrollment of more than 2,000 pupils. It employs about 100 teachers and 20 personnel and operates five school buildings.

SCS District Directors Are Elected

George Hamman, William sport, was elected as a new member of the Pickaway Soil and Water Conservation District Board Thursday night at the annual meeting held at Westfall School.

Hamman is a Deercreek Twp. farmer. He joins David Bolender, Route 4, who was reelected; Ralph Dunkel, Route 3; Frank Graves, Kingston and Chaney Vance, Orient, on the board.

Brenda Mills presented a musical program during the annual meeting. Terry Hamilton reported on his trip to 4-H Conservation Camp.

The principal speaker was R. H. Cotterman, retired professor at Capital University, who is now a Perry County farmer. Cotterman's general theme was pollution of streams through siltation.

22 Residents Seek Channel Improvement

Twenty-two farmers and landholders who live along Salt Creek met with county commissioners and the county engineer Thursday to discuss channel improvement.

The estimated cost of such a project would be near $500,000 according to county engineer Henry McCrady.

The cost of the project would have to be shared by those benefitting, and in the opinion of local officials it would be economically prohibitive.

Don Archer, Pickaway Soil and Water Conservation District work unit conservationist, said today the only answer to flooding along Salt Creek is a small watershed conservancy district.

A MEETING is scheduled Wednesday at Laurelville to coordinate the studies completed thus far to make application for the small watershed project.

Archer pointed out that if interested persons in the community really back the watershed program and push hard for it, it can become a reality.

However, he said that if the property owners try to seek other avenues of relief from flooding conditions, the likelihood of the project receiving approval is diminished.

Lima Police, FBI Seeking Man In Kidnap - Extortion

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — A man kidnaped the 11-year-old daughter of a bank president by locking her in her room Thursday and threatened her harm until he collected a $50,000 ransom, police said.

He was hunted today by police and the FBI.

Police Chief William K. Davenport said Mrs. A. D. MacDonald Jr., wife of the president of the Metropolitan Bank of Lima, paid the ransom and found her daughter Amy unharmed at home, police said.

Mrs. MacDonald told police she encountered the man, wearing green overalls, knitted cap, penciled-on mustache and sunglasses when she returned home Thursday morning after taking her son to school.

She said the man told her he had locked her daughter in an upstairs bedroom and threatened to harm the child if Mrs. MacDonald did not give him $50,000.

Davenport quoted Mrs. MacDonald as saying the man instructed her to cash a $50,000 check at a nearby branch of the Metropolitan Bank, then wait there for a phone call.

She told police she followed the man's instructions, and when he called she was told to borrow a bank employee's white convertible and drive back home.

Police said the man flagged her down about two blocks from her home, took the car and the money and told her to walk home.

Mrs. MacDonald said she found her daughter at home, unharmed.

Police and FBI officials put out an alert for a man about 35 years old and 5 feet, 9 inches tall.

Cow Killed In Car Accident

A 700-pound Holstein cow was killed and a car badly damaged when the two collided on Route 22 about 12:17 a.m. Friday. This brings the number of Pickaway County farm animals killed in traffic accidents during the past two weeks to 11.

Ezra Halle, 62, of Clem, W. Va., was westbound on Route 22 near the intersection of Route 104 when the Holstein walked out of a ditch and in front of the car. The animal was thrown 103 feet from the point of impact.

Cause of the accidents involving animals is a failure of area farmers to check their fences, according to a member of the sheriff's department.

Chancellor Commander Doyle Spangler of Philos Lodge 64 announced the rank of Page will be conferred on Laurence Cupp and Gary Hinton Monday during ceremonies at the lodge.

Spangler also stated that two former members of the now defunct Amanda Lodge will be reinstated as members of Philos Lodge during the evening. They are Robert Hinton and Dave Greene.

Lloyd Fisher, master of work, will conduct the initiatory ceremonies. Several visitors from other lodges are expected to attend. Spangler urged local members to attend.

The session will get under way at 8 p.m. Lunch will be served at the close of the evening's activities.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: After you have read my letter, please tell me if you think I am "tetched" or not.

I am married to a merchant marine. He is 57 and I am 62. We have been married for 5 years. This is the second marriage for both of us.

Abby, my husband is out at sea 3 months out of 4, and when he's gone I get so lonely for romance I could just die. I don't feel 62, and I don't look it either.

When my husband is home he wants to spend the whole 30 days in front of the television set. He never wants to take me out. He says he loves me, but he doesn't show me any affection, and I still like to be romanced. He supports me, which I appreciate, but I want more out of life. He says at our age sex does not matter. I told him to speak for himself. John. My question, am I expecting too much from him at his age?

62 AND RARIN' TO GO
DEAR 62: The amount of romance each person desires (or requires) depends on the individual's physical condition, attitudes, "get up and go," and a number of other factors. Some people are plum tucked out at 35, while others are rarin' to go at 70. If your husband says you are expecting too much of him at his age, you'd better believe him.

DEAR ABBY: I'm ashamed of my husband because he speaks English so poorly. He's not a foreigner, Abby. He's had a high school education, but he talks like his parents, and they're foreigners.

On the plus side, Louie is a good provider. He doesn't run around, and he's good to the children and me. But the way he murders the king's English irks me.

I've given Louie books on grammar and I've even suggested he attend some adult education classes. But he never gets around to it. I correct him every time he opens his mouth, but he's either stupid or doesn't care.

What do you suggest? I've even considered divorce.

EMBARRASSED
DEAR EMBARRASSED: DIVORCE? That's like chopping a man's head off to get rid of the dandruff. Maybe there's something wrong with the way you "correct" him, or "suggest" that he learn. How come his grammar didn't irk you when he asked you to marry him? Or did you plan on making him over after marriage? If so, you'd better find a more effective way to "help" him or learn to live with his deficiencies.

DEAR ABBY: I would appreciate your ideas on wigs. I think they are perfectly wonderful, but I always feel guilty when I wear one. I'm a 40-year-old housewife and full-time secretary. I often wear a wig to the office. When someone says, "My, your hair looks nice," I never know what to say.

To me, a wig is a personal thing, and I don't care to advertise the fact that I am wearing one. Yet I don't like to deceive people. Any suggestions?

FEELING GUILTY

DEAR FEELING: A wig is indeed a personal thing and you need not feel guilty for not advertising the fact that you're wearing one. When someone compliments you on your hair, say, "Thank you." But if you're asked, "Is that YOUR hair," say, "Yes! I paid for it."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN THE DARK": If you must ask me why your "mystery lover" forbids you to telephone him between certain hours and on week-ends, you shouldn't be out alone after dark. (He's probably not living alone.)

PRAGUE (AP) — Out at the edge of Prague, where the streetcar lines end and the paved streets change into muddy lanes, Czechs have been pursuing peaceful but not friendly coexistence with some unwelcome neighbors—Soviet occupation troops.

Some of the Russians who invaded the capital in August and

NEW HEART—New York Assemblyman S. J. Lehowitz, 50, who was to have run for re-election Nov. 5, received instead a new heart on that day. He is shown writing a letter in the hospital in Houston, Tex., before the operation. He had withdrawn from the election.

later moved to the suburbs are in the process of dismantling their tents and packing up to leave the country or to move into winter barracks elsewhere.

Their two months at the edge of town have passed with almost no incidents and surprisingly little contact with their Czech neighbors.

Day after day, families walk past Russian sentries or details drawing water from neighborhood pumps and silently stare straight through them as if they did not exist.

Once they reach the privacy of their homes, the Czechs become talkative. A few adventurous Czech youths who speak Russian have made contact with the young Russian soldiers and everything they report is thoroughly muffled over by the neighborhood folks.

"Why they haven't slept in beds since last spring. They were already moving around our borders in June. But when they got here they thought they were in West Berlin," reported one teen-age student who conversed with the Russians in their language.

His friend said, "The Russian soldiers, as opposed to the Mongolians and Armenians among the troops, are really sad. They would like to make friends, but now they realize it is no use, that the Czechs hate them."

The young Czechs laughed about another friend, Jaroslav, who has hippie-style long hair, wears blue jeans, a sleeveless sweatshirt with the English words, "Don't bother me."

One day Jaroslav, wearing a badge with the French words "Liberte, Egalite, Fraternite," walked into the Russian camp and the soldiers laughed at him but then clipped his hair short and forced him to peel potatoes on kitchen police.

The Jaroslav story cannot be confirmed.

Czechs in the Prague suburb of Stranice said troops in a nearby 50-tank armored unit attended a two-hour Young Communist (Komsomol) indoctrination session each day at 5 p.m., where they discussed Pravda and other Moscow newspapers and got the party line.

"They are not allowed to discuss political matters with us except in the presence of officers, but when the officers are absent, some of them admit we are not counterrevolutionaries," Czech said.

Another told of a chat with a Soviet captain who said, "The fact that you wear shoes to play football instead of playing barefoot, the fact so many people wear white shirts, proves this is a nation of bourgeois counter-revolutionaries."

"Don't you feel we are liberating you? Do you really regard us as occupiers?" he quoted the captain.

Suddenly, the Czech related, the earnest young officer pulled his revolver and handed it to him saying, "Here, you may shoot me if you really think I am an occupant."

12 Servicemen Said In Russia

TOKYO (AP) — Twelve U.S. servicemen, aided by two Japanese antiwar groups, fled to the Soviet Union between April and August, police said today.

Police learned this while investigating the case of a U.S. sailor detained Tuesday night and later turned over to U.S. military authorities for being absent without leave since Sept. 14 from the U.S. Navy base at Yokosuka.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — In an economy becoming more oriented toward the sale of services, the sad fact is that many Americans feel they are not getting what they pay for.

Not only is this an important key to understanding consumer discontent, it seems also to provide an area for the new administration in Washington to make great advances in the quality of American life.

You name it, Americans are complaining about it: drugs, cars, toys, food prices, stocks, supermarkets, mutual funds, advertising, tires, housing, insurance, health care. This amidst material plenty.

To correct the problem will offer the newly elected officials a challenge and an opportunity.

In the opinion of some students, the fault lies as much with the service as with the product, with the repairman and the salesman and the billing department.

Merchants and others readily admit that a breakdown has developed in communications between buyer and seller, adviser and client, user and producer, and that complaints often fill the gap. Transactions today often are impersonal.

In times not long past the buyer placed his hand upon the very product he wished to buy, spoke about it to an interested salesman, handed over cash and walked out of the store with product in hand.

Today he may purchase without ever contacting a salesman or seeing the goods. He may order by telephone, by the serial number, and find the product delivered by a third party, with the bill arriving later by mail.

Self-service is in vogue, both as a means of beating the labor shortage and lower costs and sometimes prices. But even where salesmen are involved, suggests Jack I. Straus, chairman of the executive committee of R. H. Macy & Co., problems are common.

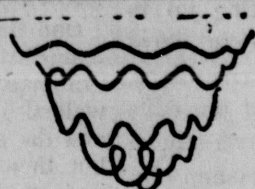

Straus was quoted in the Wall Street Journal as saying: "What is there about the act of serving others that today seems demeaning to so many people...? Why does a clerk in a store (yes, even in Macy's) seem uninterested in waiting on a customer who's willing and anxious to make a purchase...?"

He commented: "In fact, the lack of salesmanship is threatening to become the significant failure of American enterprise..."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN ADAM SMITH'S fascinating book about the Wall Street of 1968, "The Money Game," he concludes that the successful stock market operator must be possessed of "personal intuition: sensing patterns of behavior of the crowd." The Germans, he says, have just the word for it: "Finger-Spitzengefühl"—a feeling at the tip of your fingers.

A high-school drop-out, now approaching the ripe old age of twenty-three, came out of a movie to climb into his new automobile and discovered he had forgotten to take the keys out of the ignition. There they were, dangling and tantalizing. The drop-out, obviously a genius, decided to call the dealer from whom he had just purchased the car. "Tell me," he asked, "which window would be best to break in—the small one or the large one?" "No need for anything that drastic," advised the dealer. "We've got a duplicate set of keys for your car in the office. I'll come over in about a half hour to give them to you." "That's great," enthused the drop-out. "But couldn't you possibly get here a little faster? It looks like a storm is coming up—and the top is down!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is there any scientific truth to the statement that asthmatic children immediately improve when they are separated from their family?

The answer to your question is almost as complicated as some of the factors intertwined in it. It is a well established fact that there is some psychogenic basis for many cases of asthma in children. The word psychogenic means "to be born" or originate in the psyche or in the emotions. This must clearly be separated from the psychosomatic overtones that occur in all people who suffer from this distressing condition.

Asthma is a disorder in which there is a sudden episode of difficulty of breathing and of filling the lungs with air because the tubes or bronchi go into spasm.

This spasm is the result of inhaling some offending substance like pollen, dust, animal dander, or by infection in the respiratory tract. Attacks of asthma can also be caused by eating shell fish, chocolate, drugs and almost any food that one is sensitive to.

It must be emphasized again and again that the most important reason for asthma is a high degree of sensitivity to these irritating, offending substances. In addition, the psychological factor are always considered. Treatment of the asthmatic patient is a two-pronged attack. The physical-allergic aspect of the problem is never isolated from the psychological treatment of it.

Many studies have been done on the value of sending asthmatic children to the Children's Asthma Research Institute and Hospital in Denver. For a time it was considered that only a change of climate, into a higher altitude and removal from the offending grasses and pollens, made the children more comfortable. In many instances, the attacks of asthma diminished in frequency and severity.

It then struck the interest of a group of psychological specialists in asthma that there might be other reasons for this improvement, namely, the separation from the environment and from the emotional problems that may have existed in it.

A very recent study was reported by Dr. Kenneth Purcell in Denver. He followed a group of 25 children, ranging in age from five to thirteen, and outlined a very special plan that demanded the extreme cooperation and understanding of their parents. For two weeks each asthmatic child remained at home, his own home, while the parents and the rest of the family moved into a friend's home or into a hotel. Dr. Purcell said, "We provided a substitute mother or father to live with the child while he continued his normal routine of school attendance and play activities." For these two weeks there was absolutely no contact between the parents and their children. This routine had great advantages. Dr. Purcell felt, in not dislocating the child from his own home. There was a dramatic improvement in more than 50 per cent of the asthmatic children during the time of separation.

The degree of physical activity, the character of the food, the freedom from emotional tensions were all studied carefully. The conclusion substantiated that which had been known before, namely, that emotional upsets, rigid upbringing and a family life filled with hostility undoubtedly added to the frequency and severity of asthmatic attacks. It should be added that no family should make any permanent, decisive move before a thorough test period in a new climate is made to determine if the change will be beneficial to the sick child.

Measles can be eradicated almost completely with proper mass immunization.

Pupils To Return As Cash Is Voted

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Some 1,800 pupils in the Perry School District will return to classes Monday.

The schools were closed Oct. 15 after Supt. Richard L. Jones said there was not enough money to pay school employees.

Voters in the district Tuesday approved a 10-mill school operating levy which will provide about $150,000 a year.

Jones said Thursday the schools had received $15,000 from personal property tax payments to allow reopening a week earlier than originally planned.

He said Saturday classes are planned to make up the lost school days.

NEW YORK (AP) — We are always being admonished to prepare for the future.

But most of us, being the contrary creatures that we are, prefer to relive the past, over and over and over.

One doesn't have to look very hard to find the reason. The future is a gamble, an unknown full of potential dread and new dragons. The past is a more comfortable place. We have survived its perils, slain its dragons, and turned it into a memory garden which is pleasant indeed to revisit.

There are a lot of blooms in your own memory garden if you can look back and remember when—

The only people who played golf were those who could really afford to.

Hatcheck girls looked grateful if you put a dime on the counter to retrieve your bonnet. Most workers carried their sandwiches in tin lunch buckets instead of imitation leather briefcases.

One of the hated chores of childhood was having to put blacking on the big pot-bellied coal stove in the living room.

It cost as much to buy the sack of popcorn as it did to go into the movie.

Every housewife had the dull conviction that sometime during her matrimonial career she'd have to deal with the problem of bedbugs.

A college rebel was any male student who objected to joining the ROTC.

No one had heard of the dangers of a population explosion, and motherhood was the one thing on earth that stood above criticism.

If you looked at a painting in an art gallery, you could tell at a glance what it was—and whether it was hung right side up.

The quality of a saloon was judged by the variety of its free lunch and whether its brass cuspidors were brightly polished.

It was easier to detect a dyed blonde than it was to spot a counterfeit $5 bill.

A poor person was one who bought day-old bread at the bakery because the price was lower.

Every small town had at least one haunted house that children were afraid to pass by alone after dark.

As a Gypsy caravan approached, children fled to the safety of their front porches, mortally certain that, if they didn't, they'd be kidnapped and never see home again.

A juvenile delinquent was a sneaky kid who put rocks in the snowballs he threw at adult passers-by.

Girls wore dresses so long that if they had chapped knees nobody knew it but them.

Those were the days! Remember?

Dear Editor:

Ohio is certainly proud of its freeways and limited access highways, but I can pick out a highway that fits the wagon train concept more than it does today's automobiles.

As for the rest of the route, I cannot attest, but State Route 138 from Route 22 to Clarksburg is a secondary highway in the true sense of the word. This road can be resurfaced time and time again, but why the great shyness of the Highway Department when it comes to widening this highway?!

Two more feet of width in each lane could keep you on the pavement instead of on the berm when you reach a double yellow line and an oncoming car, simultaneously.

When I read Council Briefs in Wednesday's Herald, I almost laughed till I cried. I would like Mr. Jenkins to know that there are a lot of things that go on in this town that has irked me for years.

It should be pointed out that the Council does not see to it that the laws they make are enforced. I would like to know how council knows how we, the people feel about the laws they pass? I take great pride in Circleville, and I keep telling myself things have got to get better.

I would like to praise Noble Barr and Boyd Horn. I wish the whole council was made up of Noble Barrs and Boyd Horns.

If council passes legislation authorizing one man to declare a state of emergency then Circleville should be renamed Prague. It's bad when a citizen, who has done nothing wrong, is cursed at and physically manhandled by a policeman. Stay up some weekend night and watch what goes on in our town. It's bad when our fine, loyal, noble mayor steals ideas from certain council members just to make a name for himself. Come to a council meeting and see how funny it really is. Girl To Face Trial As Adult

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Treva Crosthwaite of Lebanon was being held in the Warren County Jail today after juvenile court authorities relinquished custody of her Thursday in the slaying of her father.

Judge William Bowers ordered the 16-year-old girl bound over to the Warren County Grand Jury without bond.

Miss Crosthwaite is charged with first-degree murder in the shooting death of her father, Herbert Crosthwaite, 57, in his sleep last Friday.

Her mother was also shot, but not seriously, in the incident as a result of a domestic quarrel, police said.

Dear Editor:

As I drive around over the city of Circleville, I can see many hazards. Ranging from poor streets, to no stop signs, or traffic lights in the downtown area not operating.

What does it take to correct something like this?

Perhaps an accident like the one at the Kroger area a month or so ago? That area is still the same way.

What is the city waiting on? Perhaps a death before they can change things?

Now, a few lines, on stop signs. Yes, it took a bad accident at the intersection of Edward and Mowrer Roads to bring about a stop sign from the north on Mowrer Road.

If you would go to the intersection of Wilson Ave. and McGraw Road, you would see the same thing there. No stop sign. Why? McGraw Road has been a street for 6 or 7 years.

I, myself, have lived at the corner of Edward Road and Lone Pine Road for seven years. Same situation there. No stop sign.

Should it take this long for the city to act and erect a stop sign?

Just about every time I go downtown, I can see traffic lights not operating. That isn't too bad, because a bulb has burned out. But when I go back a day or two later, and see the same lights still not operating, I wonder to myself, what is wrong with the city?

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — In an economy becoming more oriented toward the sale of services, the sad fact is that many Americans feel they are not getting what they pay for.

Not only is this an important key to understanding consumer discontent, it seems also to provide an area for the new administration in Washington to make great advances in the quality of American life.

You name it, Americans are complaining about it: drugs, cars, toys, food prices, stocks, supermarkets, mutual funds, advertising, tires, housing, insurance, health care. This amidst material plenty.

To correct the problem will offer the newly elected officials a challenge and an opportunity. In the opinion of some students, the fault lies as much with the service as with the product, with the repairman and the salesman and the billing department.

Merchants and others readily admit that a breakdown has developed in communications between buyer and seller, adviser and client, user and producer, and that complaints often fill the gap. Transactions today often are impersonal.

In times not long past the buyer placed his hand upon the very product he wished to buy, spoke about it to an interested salesman, handed over cash and walked out of the store with product in hand.

Today he may purchase without ever contacting a salesman or seeing the goods. He may order by telephone, by the serial number, and find the product delivered by a third party, with the bill arriving later by mail.

Self-service is in vogue, both as a means of beating the labor shortage and lower costs and sometimes prices. But even when salesmen are involved, suggests Jack I. Straus, chairman of the executive committee of R. H. Macy & Co., problems are common.

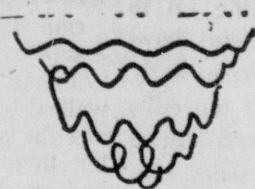

Straus was quoted in the Wall Street Journal as saying: "What is there about the act of serving others that today seems demeaning to so many people...? Why does a clerk in a store (yes, even in Macy's) seem uninterested in waiting on a customer who's willing and anxious to make a purchase...?"

He commented: "In fact, the lack of salesmanship is threatening to become the significant failure of American enterprise..."

IN ADAM SMITH'S fascinating book about the Wall Street of 1968, "The Money Game," he concludes that the successful stock market operator must be possessed of "personal intuition: sensing patterns of behavior of the crowd." The Germans, he says, have just the word for it: "Finger-Spitzengefühl"—a feeling at the tip of your fingers.

A high-school drop-out, now approaching the ripe old age of twenty-three, came out of a movie to climb into his new automobile and discovered he had forgotten to take the keys out of the ignition. There they were, dangling and tantalizing. The drop-out, obviously a genius, decided to call the dealer from whom he had just purchased the car. "Tell me," he asked, "which window would be best to break in—the small one or the large one?" "No need for anything that drastic," advised the dealer. "We've got a duplicate set of keys for your car in the office. I'll come over in about a half hour to give them to you." "That's great," enthused the drop-out. "But couldn't you possibly get here a little faster? It looks like a storm is coming up—and the top is down!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is there any scientific truth to the statement that asthmatic children immediately improve when they are separated from their family?

The answer to your question is almost as complicated as some of the factors intertwined in it. It is a well established fact that there is some psychogenic basis for many cases of asthma in children. The word psychogenic means "to be born" or originate in the psyche or in the emotions. This must clearly be separated from the psychosomatic overtones that occur in all people who suffer from this distressing condition.

Asthma is a disorder in which there is a sudden episode of difficulty of breathing and of filling the lungs with air because the tubes or bronchi go into spasm.

This spasm is the result of inhaling some offending substance like pollen, dust, animal dander, or by infection in the respiratory tract. Attacks of asthma can also be caused by eating shell fish, chocolate, drugs and almost any food that one is sensitive to.

It must be emphasized again and again that the most important reason for asthma is a high degree of sensitivity to these irritating, offending substances. In addition, the psychological factor are always considered. Treatment of the asthmatic patient is a two-pronged attack. The physical-allergic aspect of the problem is never isolated from the psychological treatment of it.

Many studies have been done on the value of sending asthmatic children to the Children's Asthma Research Institute and Hospital in Denver. For a time it was considered that only a change of climate, into a higher altitude and removal from the offending grasses and pollens, made the children more comfortable. In many instances, the attacks of asthma diminished in frequency and severity.

It then struck the interest of a group of psychological specialists in asthma that there might be other reasons for this improvement, namely, the separation from the environment and from the emotional problems that may have existed in it.

A very recent study was reported by Dr. Kenneth Purcell in Denver. He followed a group of 25 children, ranging in age from five to thirteen, and outlined a very special plan that demanded the extreme cooperation and understanding of their parents. For two weeks each asthmatic child remained at home, his own home, while the parents and the rest of the family moved into a friend's home or into a hotel. Dr. Purcell said, "We provided a substitute mother or father to live with the child while he continued his normal routine of school attendance and play activities." For these two weeks there was absolutely no contact between the parents and their children. This routine had great advantages. Dr. Purcell felt, in not dislocating the child from his own home. There was a dramatic improvement in more than 50 per cent of the asthmatic children during the time of separation.

The degree of physical activity, the character of the food, the freedom from emotional tensions were all studied carefully. The conclusion substantiated that which had been known before, namely, that emotional upsets, rigid upbringing and a family life filled with hostility undoubtedly added to the frequency and severity of asthmatic attacks. It should be added that no family should make any permanent, decisive move before a thorough test period in a new climate is made to determine if the change will be beneficial to the sick child.

Measles can be eradicated almost completely with proper mass immunization.

4 Big Railroad Unions Vote On Plan For Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of four railroad unions are voting on whether to merge into one powerful organization of nearly 200,000 men with more bargaining-table clout and a broader base for branching into other areas of the transportation industry.

"We would have more muscle if we put our money together, our men together and our bargaining committees together," said a spokesman for one of the unions which have been fighting a losing battle over sharp job cuts in the past 15 years.

Government and industry officials view the prospect with some concern.

The four unions are the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad

Trainmen with 125,000 members, the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen with 40,000, the AFL-CIO Switchmen's Union of 10,000 members and the independent Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen with 15,000.

Missing from the unity movement is the 40,000-strong independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which has been in fierce competition with the Firemen over the right to represent engineers.

Preliminary results of the balloting are due Nov. 22, with the final result expected Dec. 10.

The outcome is by no means certain since a majority of just one of the unions could defeat the proposal and there is opposition.

"It would make negotiations tougher," said John P. Hiltz, chief labor negotiator for the nation's railroad industry.

"The impression I get, and it's not a good one, is that it would give each of them a little more strength to push their favorite project," said a government official closely involved in the nation's frequently troubled railroad labor relations.

But another high government official, while agreeing a large merged union might make bigger wage demands, said it would also halt interunion warfare and competition to see who can win the biggest pay hikes.

Soldier Freed In Murder Case At Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A jury in the Warren County Common Pleas Court dismissed a charge of first-degree murder Thursday against a soldier in the beating death of Janilla Haynes of Hamilton.

Judge Warren Young directed the jury to dismiss the charge after the prosecution's case against Kerry Martin, 19, collapsed. Defense attorney John Crist of Middletown requested the dismissal motion.

The prosecution's case fell through after Nolan H. Clouse, 39, who has been in jail with Martin, said he did not recall what Martin had told him of the incident.

Martin was arrested March 29 in the slaying of Mrs. Haynes, a mother of four whose body was found on a farm near here March 16, and had previously been arrested for being AWOL from the Army.

Gilligan Says He's Through With Politics

CINCINNATI (AP) — John J. Gilligan, who knocked off Sen. Frank Lausche in the Democratic primary, but then lost Tuesday's election to William Saxbe, claims he is through running for Congress.

"I am not going to run for the House or Senate again," said Gilligan, former U.S. representative and Cincinnati city councilman.

"I have been in politics for 15 years," but "I have no plans or prospects to run for anything," Gilligan said Thursday.

Gilligan lost the election to Saxbe, Ohio attorney general, by 115,062 votes and was beaten by more than 86,000 votes in his home county—Hamilton.

"We didn't think we would have to carry Hamilton County to win, but we figured on making it a lot closer," he stated.

Stressing he will not run again for Council, in which he held a seat before the election but resigned it, Gilligan said his campaign cost "under $500,000."

4 Big Railroad Unions Vote On Plan For Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of four railroad unions are voting on whether to merge into one powerful organization of nearly 200,000 men with more bargaining-table clout and a broader base for branching into other areas of the transportation industry.

"We would have more muscle if we put our money together, our men together and our bargaining committees together," said a spokesman for one of the unions which have been fighting a losing battle over sharp job cuts in the past 15 years.

Government and industry officials view the prospect with some concern.

The four unions are the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad

Trainmen with 125,000 members, the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen with 40,000, the AFL-CIO Switchmen's Union of 10,000 members and the independent Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen with 15,000.

Missing from the unity movement is the 40,000-strong independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which has been in fierce competition with the Firemen over the right to represent engineers.

Preliminary results of the balloting are due Nov. 22, with the final result expected Dec. 10.

The outcome is by no means certain since a majority of just one of the unions could defeat the proposal and there is opposition.

"It would make negotiations tougher," said John P. Hiltz, chief labor negotiator for the nation's railroad industry.

"The impression I get, and it's not a good one, is that it would give each of them a little more strength to push their favorite project," said a government official closely involved in the nation's frequently troubled railroad labor relations.

McCloud-Crites Wedding Performed In Ashville

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES CLOW CRITES

Miss Frances Helene McCloud and Charles Clow Crites were united in marriage 7:30 p.m. Oct. 4, in St. Paul Lutheran Church of Ashville. The Rev. Henry E. Giese performed the double ring ceremony before an altar adorned with vases of yellow mums and candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Renee McCloud, Chillicothe, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Jean Crites, Route 2, Ashville. Given in marriage by Carl McCloud, the bride approached the altar in a floor length white satin gown with a chapel length train. Her veil of illusion was held by a satin crown. She carried a round-the-hand bouquet of pompon mums and daisies.

Maid of honor was Miss Marcia Vetter of Columbus. Bridesmaids were Miss Melissa Minney, Miss Susan Raines, Miss Debbie Acord and Miss Sherry Saltz of Chillicothe. The attendants were all dressed in floor length crepe gowns and carried around - the-hand bouquets of mums tinted to match their gowns. The maid of honor was in mint green and the bridesmaids were in pale blue. Flower girl was Lisa Crites.

Edward Crites served his brother as best man. Seating the guests were James Fultz, Tomy Daniels, Doug Hartley and Phillip McCloud.

Mrs. McCloud selected for her daughter's wedding a red knit suit. Mrs. Crites was attired in a blue knit dress. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

A reception in the Parish House of the church followed the ceremony. A three tiered cake centered the refreshment table where punch and mints were also served.

For a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the bride wore a brown knit dress with matching accessories.

The new Mrs. Crites is a graduate of Huntington High School. Mr. Crites graduated from Walnut High School and is presently employed in Columbus.

The couple reside at Route 2, Ashville.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Columbus and Lancaster.

Cancer Clinic To Be Held Monday Evening

The Early Detection Cancer Clinic will once again be in operation on Monday evening, Nov. 11 from 7 to 9 p.m. at Berger Hospital.

The Clinic provides free cancer checkups for all Pickaway County women of low income. The checkups consist of a Pap smear, a pelvic and breast examination and instruction on self breast examination.

Although cancer of the breast occurs more often than any other form of cancer in women, it is the easiest cancer to find and diagnose. And since the earlier cancer is found and treated the better the chances of a cure, it is of the utmost importance that women learn the technique of self breast examination and that they have a thorough checkup by a physician. It was to provide precisely these services to the medically indigent women of the county that the clinic was established.

Students Demand More Protection

DETROIT (AP)—About 200 resident women students carrying placards and signs staged a quiet sit-in at the University of Detroit Thursday demanding better campus security.

Students said the demonstration was prompted by a recent rash of assaults and attempted rapes on the campus.

"We're scared," said Nancy Caine, 19, a coed who lives in a dormitory. "We can't walk to our classes alone. It's dangerous to go out even in twos or threes after the sun does down."

Find Soap Pistol

CHICAGO (AP)—A search of a Cook County jail turned up a soap model of a pistol in the cell of a prisoner who had attempted two escapes. The notorious John Dillinger escaped from an Indiana jail in 1934 using a soap-model pistol.

Cancer Clinic To Be Held

Monday Evening

The Early Detection Cancer Clinic will once again be in operation on Monday evening, Nov. 11 from 7 to 9 p.m. at Berger Hospital.

The Clinic provides free cancer checkups for all Pickaway County women of low income. The checkups consist of a Pap smear, a pelvic and breast examination and instruction on self breast examination.

Although cancer of the breast occurs more often than any other form of cancer in women, it is the easiest cancer to find and diagnose. And since the earlier cancer is found and treated the better the chances of a cure, it is of the utmost importance that women learn the technique of self breast examination and that they have a thorough checkup by a physician. It was to provide precisely these services to the medically indigent women of the county that the clinic was established.

Students Demand More Protection

DETROIT (AP) —About 200 resident women students carrying placards and signs staged a quiet sit-in at the University of Detroit Thursday demanding better campus security.

Students said the demonstration was prompted by a recent rash of assaults and attempted rapes on the campus.

"We're scared," said Nancy Caine, 19, a coed who lives in a dormitory. "We can't walk to our classes alone. It's dangerous to go out even in twos or threes after the sun does down."

She Didn't Raise Her Boy To Be A Soldier, Mom Says

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A mother is contending in U.S. District Court that the moral authority of a parent is superior to Selective Service law in cases involving minors.

Evelyn Whitehorn asked an injunction Thursday to ban prosecution of her son Erik, 18, for refusing to register for the draft.

As a minor, Erik is required under law to obey his parents and she instructed him not to register, Mrs. Whitehorn said in her suit.

If the government decides he is guilty, however, it is she who should be punished—not Erik, she added. He faces a possible five years in prison.

"We think we are doing the right thing," said Erik. "I am following my mother's moral teaching."

"If refusing to be registered on the grounds of conscience can be made a crime," her attorney, Aubrey Grossman, told the court, "then Evelyn Whitehorn, not Erik, is the criminal."

Mrs. Whitehorn, of Palo Alto, declared in her complaint that she acted on her conviction that the Vietnam war is immoral, and that Erik's act was based on her teaching.

Draft Board 62 in San Jose, following a hearing, ordered Erik's case turned over to the U.S. attorney if he doesn't register by Nov. 12.

Grossman contended the Selective Service act is unconstitutional.

"Any law which thwarts or restricts the family in its exercise of the fundamental function of moral education and training cannot coexist with the Constitution," he said.

Grossman asked for a court order barring the draft board and U.S. Atty. Cecil Poole, from starting any prosecution of Erik.

A brother, John, 23, has served three years in the Navy as a volunteer while another brother, Robert, 21, refused induction Oct. 23.

Robert's papers have been sent to his draft board, but no further action has been taken.

Beatle Lennon's Wife Wins Suit

LONDON (AP) — Beatle John Lennon's wife Cynthia, who married the song-writing guitarist before the quartet became famous, was granted a divorce today because of Lennon's adultery with Japanese artist Yoko Ono.

A London court awarded the divorce to Mrs. Lennon, 27, as Lennon was camping on a hospital floor to be near Miss Ono. Expecting their baby in February, she is threatened with a miscarriage.

Lennon, 28, the first of the Beatles to marry, did not contest the divorce.

They were "an holy nation" because they lived according to the standards of Christ rather than the customs of their day. Cab Drivers Are Honored

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "There's no greater salesman of Ohio than the cab driver," said Gov. James A. Rhodes Thursday in honoring three outstanding cabbies.

Rhodes spoke during presentation ceremonies at a luncheon held by the Ohio Department of Development and the Ohio Taxicab Association.

Rhodes called taxi drivers "the mouthpiece of a community." He said cabbies have a great opportunity to "sell" their communities and the state, and urged them to "talk up" the good things about their hometowns.

Among the award recipients was Katherine Foltz of Findlay, who, wearing a low-cut black dress looked like anything but a cab driver.

But Mrs. Foltz, who has been driving a cab two years, was selected the state's top driver for cities of 10,000-50,000 population. William F. Jansen of Cincinnati was the winner in the over 150,000 population division, and Daniel Gerber of Canton was selected in the 50,000 to 100,000 class.

Woman Jailed; Hit Kiesinger

BERLIN (AP) — A 29-year-old woman who has badgered West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger for several years was sentenced Thursday night to a year in jail for clouting him in the eye.

Mrs. Beate Klarsfeld, a German-born French citizen who has a 3-year-old son, said she would appeal the sentence. She was released from custody.

"I did it because Kiesinger is a Nazi and because of the millions of Jews gassed in Auschwitz by the Nazis, and because only a scandal can draw the attention of the world to this fact," she told a news conference.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The television wheel seems about to complete another cycle. This may be the high noon of the variety show, but there are signs that the half-hour situation comedy, snubbed for so long, is about to be rediscovered.

The programming game, as played by the major networks, is a variation of "follow the leader." Let one show in a category attract favorable attention, there soon will appear a clutch of programs that are at least kissing cousins. Then, with satiety, comes boredom and usually the imitators disappear.

"Bonanza's" success, for example, stimulated a throng of "family westerns." "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-in" has caused so much excitement that we are certain to be seeing a number of variety series using the same fast and furious style.

And, for a couple of reasons, we will soon see a return to the little half hour comedy series because "Julia" and "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir" have been so successful recently.

Another reason for renewed interest in the form is that it can't be criticized for violence or gun-play.

The success of "Julia," in fact, seems to have emboldened the programmers in another area. NBC is committed to a half-hour comedy series next season starring Bill Cosby. Flip Wilson will have his own series if his upcoming special works well: a Negro adaptation of "Laugh-in," called "Soul" and put together by the former's producers, has a chance for a regular spot on the program. And an independent producer has a blueprint for a soap opera with Negro characters dominating.

Presumably by midseason and certainly by next year the public will become bored by the fad in police stories. Writers are so preoccupied by drop-outs and drugs that scarcely a night goes by without one demonstration of a young hippy in deep trouble.

"Hawaii Five-O" on Thursday night had its cops nailing a narcotics pusher who had hooked a 17-year-old girl. The police series, shot on the island, has the advantages of the tropic scene.

Toastmasters Elect Officers

The Circleville Toastmasters held their annual election of officers Thursday at the L-K Restaurant.

Chuck Orr was named president of the local organization. Other officers are: Bill McKinney, educational vice president; Howard Snook, administrative vice president; Dave Schneider, secretary; Gary Agin, treasurer; Bob Rustin, sergeant at arms.

It was announced the five local members would be attending the fall district conference in Dayton Saturday. Local member Ted West, will participate in the humorous speech contest at the meeting.

Offering formal speeches on the theme "Income Tax for Circleville?" were Bob Rustin, Bill McKinney and Tom Matesky. Winner of this competition was McKinney.

The table topics competition was won by Frank Plecia with an impromptu speech on political activity.

The next regular meeting will be held Nov. 21. Dick Petz was welcomed as a guest at the meeting.

Crewmen Lost After Freighter Sinks In Storm

STAVANGER, Norway (AP) — Two crewmen are dead and five still are missing from the 1,550-ton Greek freighter Gerasimos H, which capsized and sank in a storm off Norway Thursday night.

The radio station in Farsund, Norway, which coordinated the international at-sea rescue operation, said a capsized lifeboat has been found.

The station said the Finnish ship Finseal picked up 13 crew members, but one died and one was in critical condition. Another crewman was picked up by the Norwegian ship Finno but he died, the station reported.

The Gerasimos L was carrying timber from the Soviet Union to Greece.

they loved one another. In His high priestly prayer He said that He had loved His own even as the Father had loved Him.

Love brought Jesus Christ into the world and took Him to Calvary. Thus, love became the hallmark of the Christian life and it is a monstrous contradiction that the recipients of such love who have been redeemed because of this love are not possessed by love not only for our Lord but for all our fellowmen.

After singling out five sins that the recipients of his letter were guilty of, Peter urged them to abstain from fleshly lusts and obey those who governed them.

Because they believed in God and accepted Jesus Christ as His Son and their Savior, Peter addressed them as "a chosen generation."

They were a "royal priesthood" because they believed Christ was set aside and consecrated. They were "an holy nation" because they lived according to the standards of Christ rather than the customs of their day. persecution at the hands of both fanatical Jews and hostile pagans.

Rather than ignore this situation, tell his readers to "forget it" or urge the raising of armies to resist the forces of persecution, Peter offers them a message of hope. He reminds them that the Master was rejected and wronged, but His suffering resulted in ultimate glory and victory; and if they courageously follow His example, they, too, will share the blessings of Christ's glorious triumph.

In the opening verses of the Epistle, Peter speaks of the prophets and other holy men of old who, though faithful, died without ever having seen the Messiah.

Christians, on the other hand, were in a more advantageous position for, despite the trials and temptations they were enduring, the Savior had been revealed to them. In view of this, they should count their blessings and set their hearts on the grace given them in the revelation of Jesus Christ.

persecution at the hands of both fanatical Jews and hostile pagans.

Rather than ignore this situation, tell his readers to "forget it" or urge the raising of armies to resist the forces of persecution, Peter offers them a message of hope. He reminds them that the Master was rejected and wronged, but His suffering resulted in ultimate glory and victory; and if they courageously follow His example, they, too, will share the blessings of Christ's glorious triumph.

Cab Drivers Are Honored

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "There's no greater salesman of Ohio than the cab driver," said Gov. James A. Rhodes Thursday in honoring three outstanding cabbies.

Rhodes spoke during presentation ceremonies at a luncheon held by the Ohio Department of Development and the Ohio Taxicab Association.

Rhodes called taxi drivers "the mouthpiece of a community." He said cabbies have a great opportunity to "sell" their communities and the state, and urged them to "talk up" the good things about their hometowns.

Among the award recipients was Katherine Foltz of Findlay, who, wearing a low-cut black dress looked like anything but a cab driver.

But Mrs. Foltz, who has been driving a cab two years, was selected the state's top driver for cities of 10,000-50,000 population. William F. Jansen of Cincinnati was the winner in the over 150,000 population division, and Daniel Gerber of Canton was selected in the 50,000 to 100,000 class.

Woman Jailed; Hit Kiesinger

BERLIN (AP) — A 29-year-old woman who has badgered West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger for several years was sentenced Thursday night to a year in jail for clouting him in the eye.

Mrs. Beate Klarsfeld, a German-born French citizen who has a 3-year-old son, said she would appeal the sentence. She was released from custody.

"I did it because Kiesinger is a Nazi and because of the millions of Jews gassed in Auschwitz by the Nazis, and because only a scandal can draw the attention of the world to this fact," she told a news conference.

UAW Is Winner Of Bargaining Vote

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union won the bargaining rights Thursday of more than 500 hourly employees at the Forest City Foundries Co. here.

In an election conducted by the National Labor Relations Board, the UAW defeated Forest City Foundries Independent Union, 343-226.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The television wheel seems about to complete another cycle. This may be the high noon of the variety show, but there are signs that the half-hour situation comedy, snubbed for so long, is about to be rediscovered.

The programming game, as played by the major networks, is a variation of "follow the leader." Let one show in a category attract favorable attention, there soon will appear a clutch of programs that are at least kissing cousins. Then, with satiety, comes boredom and usually the imitators disappear.

"Bonanza's" success, for example, stimulated a throng of "family westerns." "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-in" has caused so much excitement that we are certain to be seeing a number of variety series using the same fast and furious style.

And, for a couple of reasons, we will soon see a return to the little half hour comedy series because "Julia" and "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir" have been so successful recently.

Another reason for renewed interest in the form is that it can't be criticized for violence or gun-play.

The success of "Julia," in fact, seems to have emboldened the programmers in another area. NBC is committed to a half-hour comedy series next season starring Bill Cosby. Flip Wilson will have his own series if his upcoming special works well: a Negro adaptation of "Laugh-in" called "Soul" and put together by the former's producers, has a chance for a regular spot on the program. And an independent producer has a blueprint for a soap opera with Negro characters dominating.

Presumably by midseason and certainly by next year the public will become bored by the fad in police stories. Writers are so preoccupied by drop-outs and drugs that scarcely a night goes by without one demonstration of a young hippy in deep trouble.

"Hawaii Five-O" on Thursday night had its cops nailing a narcotics pusher who had hooked a 17-year-old girl. The police series, shot on the island, has the advantages of the tropic scene.

Crewmen Lost After Freighter Sinks In Storm

STAVANGER, Norway (AP) — Two crewmen are dead and five still are missing from the 1,550-ton Greek freighter Gerasimos H, which capsized and sank in a storm off Norway Thursday night.

The radio station in Farsund, Norway, which coordinated the international air-sea rescue operation, said a capsized lifeboat has been found.

The station said the Finnish ship Finseal picked up 13 crew members, but one died and one was in critical condition. Another crewman was picked up by the Norwegian ship Finno but he died, the station reported.

The Gerasimos L was carrying timber from the Soviet Union to Greece.

SHORT OF A MIRACLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Rome's Coliseum, partly tumbled into ruin, is considered one of the wonders of the world. It was built in 80 A. D.—and that is a long time ago, to be sure. Yet it is but a second when measured against the ages that have passed since God created the world.

The Coliseum—wonder that it is—is also visible proof of the limit of man's accomplishments. We consider it nothing short of a miracle that something built by man has endured that long. Yet those things created by God remain endless and eternal.

God's works should, indeed, fill even the wisest of us with wonder, with awe, and with gratitude. We tend to take them all too much for granted. We tend, at times, to forget them—and even to forget Him—entirely.

Discover God again, in the church of your choice and in the process, rediscover yourself.

SHORT OF A MIRACLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Rome's Coliseum, partly tumbled into ruin, is considered one of the wonders of the world. It was built in 80 A. D.—and that is a long time ago, to be sure. Yet it is but a second when measured against the ages that have passed since God created the world.

The Coliseum—wonder that it is—is also visible proof of the limit of man's accomplishments. We consider it nothing short of a miracle that something built by man has endured that long. Yet those things created by God remain endless and eternal.

God's works should, indeed, fill even the wisest of us with wonder, with awe, and with gratitude. We tend to take them all too much for granted. We tend, at times, to forget them—and even to forget Him—entirely.

Discover God again, in the church of your choice and in the process, rediscover yourself.

AP Religion Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The fiberglass windows, eight of them ranked on an upper level and 18 below, look dull black on the outside, spilling a rainbow flood into the sanctuary.

It's a cheerful, springtime place. Red, green and purple strips hang from the high ceiling around the lights, and bright-lettered banners, made by a group of nuns, drape the walls between the 12 tall pillars. In the midst of this brightly arrayed stands the altar.

This is St. Mark's church, a new and unprecedented phenomenon in the religious spectrum of America.

It began functioning here last weekend, the first officially approved, ecumenical church of its kind in the country, joining Protestants and Roman Catholics in one congregation.

"We're pioneering new directions, with many dimensions of importance to all Christendom," said the Rev. David O. Shipley, a United Presbyterian clergyman and one of the church's interdenominational team of four ministers.

Sparked by the modern current of interchurch concourse growing out of the conciliar movement and the Second Vatican Council, the project began germinating in 1966, and now after two years of preparation, it went into operation.

It brings Christian unity out of the visionary sphere of upper echelon conferences, and enlists it in a specific, working arena of everyday life, on the local scene.

"We hope the breezes fan out all over our land and bring to every community the kind of spirit and cooperation that has brought us into this effort," says another of the ministers, the Rev. William A. Hayes, of the United Church of Christ (Congregationalists).

With the approval of Kansas City's Bishop Charles H. Helms-ing, Roman Catholicism is participating in the new church along with three other bodies, the Episcopal Church, United Presbyterian Church and the United Church.

Other demonstrations may eventually become part of it, the planners say.

The newly completed $400,000 church building, a modernistic structure of sand-blasted concrete and steel, includes extensive facilities for recreation, teaching, drama, library, food service and offices, besides the semicircular sanctuary seating 300.

Outside, a pleasant, railed plaza, with tables for dining and talk, borders three sides of the church. In front, besides the stairs leading up to it, stands a 25-foot cross of heavy, rough wood.

It faces out on rows of crowded high-rise tenements across the street, a low-income, mixed, heavily Negro area where about 15,000 people of many religious backgrounds, or none, live within a six-block radius.

"The basic certainty of St. Mark's is that it is an all-out effort of the church to look for Christ where he is, in a special and preferred way, namely among the poor," says the Rev. Robert Ready, Catholic member of the team.

As worked out in planning stages, the interdenominational congregation is to function as a unit, except for separate Sunday worship, a regular Mass for Catholics and a Protestant service, at different times.

Otherwise, members are to function as one body of Christians, in religious education, youth programs, counselling, tutoring, nursery care, welfare work, bus pick-up services, social action projects and handling job and housing placement.

When anyone joins the church, he'll be asked to indicate affiliation with one of the participating denominations, so as to keep memberships fully aligned with the wider communications, under the present organizational setup.

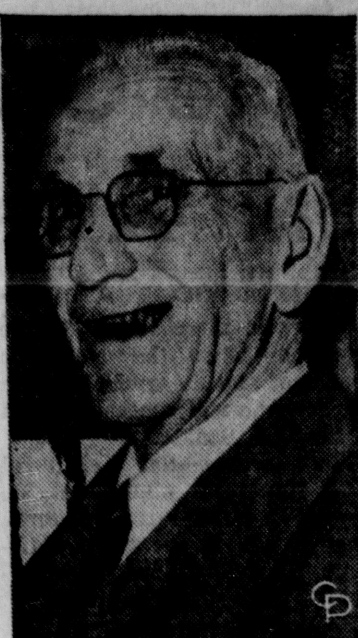

Driver Education Gets Poo-Pooed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Family background, sex, age and emotional security all affect the auto accident rate among students, says a university psychologist. But he says driver education courses in high schools do not.

Dr. Frederick McGuire, a University of California at Irvine psychologist, said Tuesday, "There is not one shred of acceptable evidence that indicates high school driver education reduces highway accidents or lessens the seriousness of ones that occur."

McGuire was given the National Safety Council's 1968 award of honor Tuesday for significant research in accident prevention.

For his survey he said he checked the records of several thousand drivers in Mississippi and in Orange County.

U.S. Losses In Viet War Up Slightly

SAIGON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in action in Vietnam rose slightly during the week before the halt in the bombing of North Vietnam, the U.S. command reported today.

U.S. Headquarters said 150 Americans were killed in action during the week of Oct. 27-Nov. 2, a reporting period that included only 27 hours of the bombing halt which went into effect at 9 p.m. last Friday.

But the bombing halt is likely to have little effect on U.S. casualties since the American command says it will pursue the war as vigorously as ever in South Vietnam.

Two weeks ago, 109 Americans were reported killed in action, and the week before the toll was 100. During the last three weeks in September American deaths exceeded 200 each week.

South Vietnamese casualties also were up slightly, with 129 soldiers reported killed last week compared with 103 the previous week.

The allied commands reported 1,393 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed last week and increased the previous week's toll of the enemy from 1,289 to 1,995 killed.

U.S. headquarters accused the Viet Cong of continuing "indiscriminate" mortar and rocket attacks on cities and towns. New shelling was reported against two towns and a village on two sides of Saigon, with an expectant mother killed and seven other civilians wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 16 mortar, rocket and artillery attacks on provincial and district capitals since the bombing halt, with 47 civilians wounded and one killed.

Pentagon Issues January Draft Call Of 26,800

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced today a January draft call of 26,800 men to serve in the Army. This is the biggest monthly quota since May when the total reached 45,900.

The Defense Department said the January quota "will assure a timely flow of replacements for men completing their terms of service."

The announcement explained that recent draft call fluctuations have been due mainly to shifting changes in Army replacement needs.

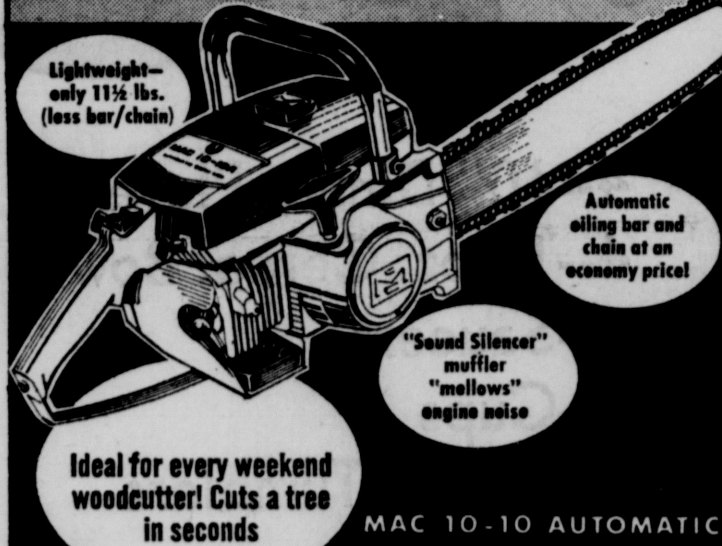

The January quota is 9,300 more men than December's 17,500 call and 16,900 more than the 10,000-man call for this month, lowest so far this year.

CHIEFS OF STATE behind the big new peace offensive are South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu, bearded North Vietnam President Ho Chi Minh, and President Johnson.

Vote Outcome In 4 States Still Awaits Final Canvass

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Voters in three states still do not know whom they chose for president and those of one state wonder who will represent them in the U.S. Senate.

The presidential electoral votes involved would not be enough to change the outcome, even if all three states—Missouri, Maryland and Alaska—went to Hubert H. Humphrey.

President-elect Richard M. Nixon has won states with 287 electoral votes, 17 more than a majority.

The senatorial race count continues in Oregon.

In the national presidential race, the latest vote tabulation showed Humphrey with 30,122,715 or 43.2 per cent; Nixon with 30,446,028 or 43.6 per cent; and George C. Wallace with 9,186,703 or 13.2 per cent. Humphrey also had 53,120 from a second slate of electors in Alabama.

In Missouri, with 12 electoral votes, completion of the unofficial tabulation showed Nixon with 766,169 and Humphrey with 758,547. Between 75,000 to 100,000 absentee ballots remain to be counted today or Saturday. Missouri has 12 electoral votes.

In Maryland, home state of Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew, Nixon had 502,059 votes and Humphrey had 519,797. There were 36,000 absentee ballots and no immediate indication when the final results would be known. Maryland has 10 electoral votes.

The latest count in Alaska, with three electoral votes, showed Nixon with 32,245 and Humphrey with 31,337. The state's 7,000 absentee votes, along with tallies from some counted today.

In Oregon, the ballot count-down resumes today in the Senate race between Democrat Wayne Morse, the incumbent, and Republican Robert Packwood. At the conclusion of counting Thursday night the tally read: Morse 400,257; Packwood 403,756. About 6,000 ballots remain to be tallied.

When counting boards quit work Thursday night an estimated 6,000 votes were still uncounted in five counties. In one of these—Lane—Morse was getting 54.8 per cent of the absentee votes. It was these which forced the tallying into the third day beyond Tuesday's election. Morse was getting 56.1 per cent of the absentees in Multnomah County.

These percentages were far too small to give him hope of overtaking Packwood, although the mathematical chance was still there.

Morse has not been available to the press—usual for him until final results are known—but the feeling is so general that he will demand a recount that Secretary of State Clay Myers ordered special protection for the ballots in all counties.

Chauffeur's License Elimination Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Taxicab Association may seek legislation to eliminate the requirement that cab drivers have state chauffeur's license.

Marvin Glassman, the group's legislative chairman, said Thursday that many prospective drivers can't afford the delays required in obtaining the licenses and seek employment elsewhere, leaving cab companies with a shortage of drivers.

Vote Outcome In 4 States Still Awaits Final Canvass

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Voters in three states still do not know whom they chose for president and those of one state wonder who will represent them in the U.S. Senate.

The presidential electoral votes involved would not be enough to change the outcome, even if all three states—Missouri, Maryland and Alaska—went to Hubert H. Humphrey.

President-elect Richard M. Nixon has won states with 287 electoral votes, 17 more than a majority.

The senatorial race count continues in Oregon.

In the national presidential race, the latest vote tabulation showed Humphrey with 30,122,715 or 43.2 per cent; Nixon with 30,446,028 or 43.6 per cent; and George C. Wallace with 9,186,703 or 13.2 per cent. Humphrey also had 53,120 from a second slate of electors in Alabama.

In Missouri, with 12 electoral votes, completion of the unofficial tabulation showed Nixon with 766,169 and Humphrey with 758,547. Between 75,000 to 100,000 absentee ballots remain to be counted today or Saturday. Missouri has 12 electoral votes.

In Maryland, home state of Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew, Nixon had 502,059 votes and Humphrey had 519,797. There were 36,000 absentee ballots and no immediate indication when the final results would be known. Maryland has 10 electoral votes.

The latest count in Alaska, with three electoral votes, showed Nixon with 32,245 and Humphrey with 31,337. The state's 7,000 absentee votes, along with tallies from some counted today.

In Oregon, the ballot count-down resumes today in the Senate race between Democrat Wayne Morse, the incumbent, and Republican Robert Packwood. At the conclusion of counting Thursday night the tally read: Morse 400,257; Packwood 403,756. About 6,000 ballots remain to be tallied.

When counting boards quit work Thursday night an estimated 6,000 votes were still uncounted in five counties. In one of these—Lane—Morse was getting 54.8 per cent of the absentee votes. It was these which forced the tallying into the third day beyond Tuesday's election. Morse was getting 56.1 per cent of the absentees in Multnomah County.

These percentages were far too small to give him hope of overtaking Packwood, although the mathematical chance was still there.

Morse has not been available to the press—usual for him until final results are known—but the feeling is so general that he will demand a recount that Secretary of State Clay Myers ordered special protection for the ballots in all counties.

Chauffeur's License Elimination Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Taxicab Association may seek legislation to eliminate the requirement that cab drivers have state chauffeur's license.

Marvin Glassman, the group's legislative chairman, said Thursday that many prospective drivers can't afford the delays required in obtaining the licenses and seek employment elsewhere, leaving cab companies with a shortage of drivers.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Rumpke Inc., a private garbage collector operating throughout Hamilton County, was fined a maximum $500 Thursday on a conviction last week of stream pollution charges.

Judge William Lovelace of the Hamilton County Municipal Court meted the fine "with apologies" that it could not be for more.

Rumpke, charged under the Clean Streams Act for disposing garbage and other wastes in a creek July 18, claimed the refuse overflowed during a heavy rain.

'Ocean Decade' Plan Studied

U.N. Approval Expected Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — President Johnson's proposal for an international Decade of Ocean Development is expected to get unanimous approval in the U.N. General Assembly's main political committee.

A resolution sponsored by the United States and 18 other nations welcomes Johnson's proposal last March to begin a 10-year program in 1970 to promote the peaceful uses of the ocean floor.

The resolution calls on U.N. members to propose scientific programs for the decade, urges them to publish the results of their findings during that period and asks the International Oceanographic Commission to coordinate the efforts.

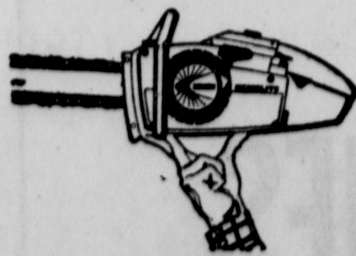

The 125-nation committee is also expected today to approve two other resolutions dealing with the sea bed.

One sponsored by Malta, Mauritius and Tanzania endorses the principles that no nation may claim the sea bed, that it should be developed in the interests of all and that it should be exploited for peaceful purposes only.

Another, introduced by the United States, the Soviet Union and 28 other nations, calls on all nations to take measures to minimize pollution of the oceans from seabed mining and drilling.

Junior Class Play Starts Nov. 15

By HOLLY BACH

Tension rises as final preparations are made for the presentation of the Junior Class Play "Lilies of the Field" to be given Nov. 15, and 16, in the CHS auditorium.

With only three more practices until curtain time there are certain last minute details to complete, such as last touches on scenery, final learning of lines, brushing up on accents and selling tickets.

Action begins sometime in May, in one of the southwestern states. Homer Smith, a young man recently discharged from the Army, buys a second-hand station wagon, equips it for sleeping and living, and sets off to see the west.

That is how he happens to drive by the field where four German nuns are working. For some reason Homer Smith stops to help, and he is immediately put to work by Mother Marie Marthe.

Building a church is not exactly Homer's idea of part-time work. In fact Homer thinks that "Old Mother" is a slave driver who starves her workers.

When she wants to drive to another town to buy bricks, Homer is led to believe that gas will be provided exactly as the "Lilies of the Field" have all their needs satisfied.

Homer not only helps the nuns to build their church, he also helps them learn English, buys groceries to add to the milk and eggs provided by one cow and one chicken, and even buys a bathtub.

Homer, played by Mark Frericks, even entertains the nuns with guitar music. How well, is a secret known only to the cast.

Circleville DECA Members Attend District Convention

2 CHS Girls Elected To Area Posts

By DEBBIE HEISKELL

Fifty - one CHS DECA I and DECA II members attended the District DECA Convention at Athens Oct. 30.

District I is composed of 12 DECA Chapters, located in south Central Ohio. There were approximately 300 voting student delegates who attended this meeting with their coordinators.

All members attended a general meeting opened by keynote speaker, James Bowling. After campaign speeches were concluded a leadership conference was held for all officers.

Circleville's advisors, Mrs. Alice Greenwood and Mr. Ned Katterheirich, were very active in the program. Mrs. Greenwood was responsible for giving help and extra training to all the chapter's treasurers in the district. Mr. Katterheirich served as one of the five tellers when the votes for candidates were tabulated.

Pam Hatfield and Janet Kochensparger represented CHS successfully at the convention.

Pam, a senior DECA member, was elected District I president. She resides with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hatfield of 342 E. Mound St. Pam is enrolled in the business II course of study and is very active in DECA and EMS.

She is employed by Mayor Richard Gerhardt on a part-time basis in his law office.

When asked her reaction to being chosen, she replied, "When I was told I had won, I felt a greater sense of accomplishment than I have ever had. If it had not been for all of my great backers and classmates, I would not have been here. Now I owe it to them and DECA to do my best and complete my promises."

Pam was, also, asked what her job is now that she is District I president and she replied, "I preside over the 12 chapters in our district. I now have to attend a training session in Columbus Nov. 15, and 16, for the district officers. Next year at the district conference I will conduct the meeting. Now all I have to do is fulfill my campaign promises."

Janet, a junior DECA member, was the successful candidate for District I recorder. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kochensparger of 337 E. High St. Janet's school activities include Curtain Callers and library work.

Janet's reaction to being chosen was, "Well, it didn't really hit me until I was asked to take the oath and then I got scared. I was sort of excited but not really surprised."

Janet's office consists of writing letters for the district, keeping accurate minutes of all district meetings, attending weekend training sessions in Columbus and entering in the state competition.

Mrs. Greenwood commented, "I am very happy to report that our Circleville DECA delegation

Seniors Honored During Season's Last Grid Game

By MICHELE HULSE

Last Friday the final home football game of the year was played on the CHS field. The evening was further highlighted by the Parents' Night activities in which all the cheerleaders and football players were introduced with their parents to the spectators.

For cheerleaders Mary Gates, Debbie Smith and Holly Bach as well as the 16 senior members of the Tiger grid, Steve Barthelmas, Will Bost, Frank Carter, Don Cordel, Phil Diehl, Wayne Garrison, Randy Greer, Steve Lingo, Steve Olney, Mark Halston, Jim Samuel, John Schroeder, Rick Sims, Danny Smith, Mike Smith and Ed Wells, it was their last performance on the home field.

For their halftime show the CHS marching band had a program of numbers and precision routines they had learned this past year.

In a special arrangement honoring the senior members, the band formed an hourglass through which each of the 18 seniors walked while singing their alma mater, "The Red and The Black."

The sudden cloudburst that drenched the field during the program served to hide the tears of many of the honored students whose memories were stirred by the show and the sudden realization of their fast-approaching graduation.

Student Of the Week

DALE HUKILL

By PATTY GLITT

One of the new, but familiar faces at CHS belongs to Dale Hukill, 16, from Cleveland. He one brother and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hukill, reside at 916 Lincoln Drive.

Collecting stamps, playing the organ and tennis are his major hobbies. Theatrics is one of his special interests, as shown by his participation in choir, boys' quartet, Curtain Callers and chairmanship of the lighting for Junior class play.

Dale prefers a smaller school because of its friendly atmosphere. He attended John Marshall High School, with an enrollment of approximately 3,000, where he belonged to choir, a theater group and participated in two plays.

He is enrolled in the college prep course and plans to major in engineering or music after graduation.

Dale's outlook on life is to "make the best out of life at all times."

was very well-mannered and the neatest appearing group present. I am very proud of Pam and Janet.

Mr. Katterheirich added, "It was a great feeling to be number one in the voting in the district. Now we will try to be number one in the state."

CHS Students Give Views Of Veteran's Day

By JACKIE ULLMAN and FRANKIE CARTER

Armistice Day, also known as Veteran's Day, is the date on which actual fighting ceased in World War I.

The armistice was signed by the allies and Germany on Nov. 11, 1918. On this day each year in the allied countries some commemoration is made.

The ceremonies usually include a period of silence at 11 o'clock in the morning, the hour at which the hostilities ended and services in memory of those killed in World War I, World War II and the Korean War.

In the United States most of the states have made Armistice Day a legal holiday. In May, 1938, it became a legal holiday by act of Congress. In Italy the victory of the Allies is celebrated on Nov. 4.

Following are the results of a survey of student opinions of Veteran's Day, as compiled by the Roving Reporter.

Mike Smith — It means that we honor the veterans who have fought for our country during the wars.

Mike Henderson — It's the one day we honor those soldiers who spent many years fighting for us.

Jeff Palm — It's a day set aside for honoring the men who fought for our country.

Liz Moon — Veteran's Day is a day that everyone honors all the men who so bravely fought for our country.

Ann Hedges — Veteran's Day is a day when the American people honor and pay tribute to all the soldiers who have fought and died for our country.

Mr. Gruesser — It is important because it shows the great respect we, the American People, have for those who have served their country to protect the freedoms that we value so highly.

Krista Clifton — Veterans' Day is a special day in which we honor all the men who have fought in war for our country. These are the men who have helped in giving us and keeping our freedom today.

Bosses Discuss Job Interviews

By JOE TOMLINSON

Hollis Barker is temporary assistant manager of King's Department Store while Mr. Miller is recuperating from an illness.

Mr. Barker was questioned concerning job applicants and replied, "I take the first appearance of a person. He must be pleasant to look at, willing to learn, and wear clean and neatly pressed clothes, not necessarily expensive. I enjoy interviewing. I try to make it enjoyable for the applicant, too."

About smoking during an interview he replied, "I have offered people cigarettes out of courtesy, not as a test. However, since it is offensive to the public as a whole, it is a factor on the application."

Francis Wolfe of Penney's, says "Appearance and alertness along with how interested the applicant is in seeking a job determined the greater part of whether they are hired. Our test on general mathematics plays a good part, too."

Art Deal of Lou Deal's Flowers, explained "In our type of business, the applicant must be neat and willing to work a combination sales man and worker. People do not show the desire to work; they do not want to work the hours and days, but want to adapt the job to their other outside activities."

At Appliance and Refrigeration, Lela Kenworthy answered, "In order to have a good interview, the applicant should know what kind of job he is looking for — most do not. Most of the students that come in here are neat and polite, but they are not sure what type of job they want."

Miller Fissell of Caddy Miller's, states that "appearance, use of good speech, personality, and experience in meeting the public are all factors in determining if the applicant is to be hired. In some cases, boys do not talk mature enough. Boys who are acceptable to us must have clean habits; if he smokes, we hold it against him."

George Fuhrman, manager of Penney's, said about interviews "The approach the person uses, his attitude, and how he conducts his conversation are definite factors. He must show desire in meeting people. Most applicants have not made up their minds as to whether they would like to work there or not. The applicant defeats himself by wandering in his interviewing conversation. Greatest of all, the applicant never seems to have confidence in himself. This he absolutely must have."

Martha Blue of the Tradition House explained, "physical appearance and use of English grammar are judged first. I look for confidence in one's self, a friendly disposition, and a general liking of people. We of Tradition House, hire on a trial basis, which has proved successful. Some people present a bad interview by not giving good responses. They present themselves and expect to be hired."

Don Repp of Bingman Drug says "appearance, experience, references, basic intelligence and the sincerity of a person determine if I hire him or not. I try to judge whether he will really be happy at that particular job. I will not hire a person who calls me on the phone and asks if I am hiring anyone at that particular time. If he is not willing to come and talk to me in person, he is not interested enough in obtaining a job. About smoking — it is a poor way for a young person to apply for a job; it leaves a bad impression on me."

Grapplers Seek Top League Spot

By DAVE SADLER

For the first time, the CHS grapplers will have a chance to try for the new league's championship.

Coach Brent Bell feels that his wrestling team will do better than .500, and win the championship.

Experience and desire shown by students will provide the new head coach with a strong and dependable team. With new changes in the rules, style of wrestling and the addition of a 105 lb. weight class, Coach Bell feels that the team will have to make all necessary adjustments.

Mr. Bell states "There is no substitute for hard work and desire. This can overcome all handicaps and inexperience and make winners out of a lot of young grapplers."

He backs up his philosophy with the famed "Championship Mike" that must be run by all team members.

Conditioning and discipline must be observed by all or else they will have nothing but utter frustration.

Junior Class Play Starts Nov. 15

By HOLLY BACH

Tension rises as final preparations are made for the presentation of the Junior Class Play "Lilies of the Field" to be given Nov. 15, and 16, in the CHS auditorium.

With only three more practices until curtain time there are certain last minute details to complete, such as last touches on scenery, final learning of lines, brushing up on accents and selling tickets.

Action begins sometime in May, in one of the southwestern states. Homer Smith, a young man recently discharged from the Army, buys a second-hand station wagon, equips it for sleeping and living, and sets off to see the west.

That is how he happens to drive by the field where four German nuns are working. For some reason Homer Smith stops to help, and he is immediately put to work by Mother Marie Marthe.

Building a church is not exactly Homer's idea of part-time work. In fact Homer thinks that "Old Mother" is a slave driver who starves her workers.

When she wants to drive to another town to buy bricks, Homer is led to believe that gas will be provided exactly as the "Lilies of the Field" have all their needs satisfied.

Homer not only helps the nuns to build their church, he also helps them learn English, buys groceries to add to the milk and eggs provided by one cow and one chicken, and even buys a bathtub.

Homer, played by Mark Frericks, even entertains the nuns with guitar music. How well, is a secret known only to the cast.

He attended Otterbein College in Westerville where he received a bachelor of science degree.

Basketball, food and paydays are among his likes. Among his many interests are coaching and playing basketball.

Circleville DECA Members Attend District Convention

2 CHS Girls Elected To Area Posts

By DEBBIE HEISKELL

Fifty - one CHS DECA I and DECA II members attended the District DECA Convention at Athens Oct. 30.

District I is composed of 12 DECA Chapters, located in south Central Ohio. There were approximately 300 voting student delegates who attended this meeting with their coordinators.

All members attended a general meeting opened by keynote speaker, James Bowling. After campaign speeches were concluded a leadership conference was held for all officers.

Circleville's advisors, Mrs. Alice Greenwood and Mr. Ned Katterheirich, were very active in the program. Mrs. Greenwood was responsible for giving help and extra training to all the chapter's treasurers in the district. Mr. Katterheirich served as one of the five tellers when the votes for candidates were tabulated.

Pam Hatfield and Janet Kochensparger represented CHS successfully at the convention.

Pam, a senior DECA member, was elected District I president. She resides with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hatfield of 342 E. Mound St. Pam is enrolled in the business II course of study and is very active in DECA and EMS.

She is employed by Mayor Richard Gerhardt on a part-time basis in his law office.

When asked her reaction to being chosen, she replied, "When I was told I had won, I felt a greater sense of accomplishment than I have ever had. If it had not been for all of my great backers and classmates, I would not have even been there. Now I owe it to them and DECA to do my best and complete my promises."

Pam was, also, asked what her job is now that she is District I president and she replied, "I preside over the 12 chapters in our district. I now have to attend a training session in Columbus Nov. 15, and 16, for the district officers. Next year at the district conference I will conduct the meeting. Now all I have to do is fulfill by campaign promises."

Janet, a junior DECA member, was the successful candidate for District I recorder. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kochensparger of 337 E. High St. Janet's school activities include Curtain Callers and library work.

Janet's reaction to being chosen was, "Well, it didn't really hit me until I was asked to take the oath and then I got scared. I was sort of excited but not really surprised."

Janet's office consists of writing letters for the district, keeping accurate minutes of all district meetings, attending weekend training sessions in Columbus and entering in the state competition.

Mrs. Greenwood commented, "I am very happy to report that our Circleville DECA delegation

Seniors Honored During Season's Last Grid Game

By MICHELE HULSE

Last Friday the final home football game of the year was played on the CHS field. The evening was further highlighted by the Parents' Night activities in which all the cheerleaders and football players were introduced with their parents to the spectators.

For cheerleaders Mary Gates, Debbie Smith and Holly Bach as well as the 16 senior members of the Tiger grid, Steve Barthelmas, Will Bost, Frank Carter, Don Cordel, Phil Diehl, Wayne Garrison, Randy Greer, Steve Lingo, Steve Olney, Mark Ralston, Jim Samuel, John Schroeder, Rick Sims, Danny Smith, Mike Smith and Ed Wells, it was their last performance on the home field.

For their halftime show the CHS marching band had a program of numbers and precision routines they had learned this past year.

In a special arrangement honoring the senior members, the band formed an hourglass through which each of the 18 seniors walked while singing their alma mater, "The Red and The Black."

The sudden cloudburst that drenched the field during the program served to hide the tears of many of the honored students whose memories were stirred by the show and the sudden realization of their fast-approaching graduation.

Archer Leads In Hawaiian Golf Clash

HONOLULU (AP) — George Archer shot an eight under par 64 Thursday for a one-stroke lead in the first round of the $125,000 Hawaiian International golf tournament.

"I played so bad and scored so good," Archer described his scramble. "I was raking it out from under trees, and bouncing it through bunkers all day. Well, you get days like that—it makes up for all the bad bounces."

One stroke back was Dick Lotz, 26-year-old San Francisco Bay Area golfer.

The field gave the Waialae course a fearful drubbing. In all, 47 broke par.

Mac McLendon a PGA school flunkout on his first try, had a six-under 66, along with little-known Ken Ellsworth, former Los Angeles State College star.

Former amateur champion Deane Beman, Miller Barber, Steve Reid and Bob McAllister had 67. Australian Bruce Crampton and National Open champion Lee Trevino were in the group of 68s.

Red Berenson Scores Hat Trick, Encores

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Red Berenson scored the first three-goal hat trick of his National Hockey League career Thursday night and he liked the feeling so much that he did it again.

The six-goal night earned a spot in the record book for Berenson, who led St. Louis to an 8-0 romp over Philadelphia.

Berenson had managed a total of 14 goals in 166 NHL games before being traded to the expansion Blues last year. He responded with a 22-goal season and was named Most Valuable Player of the NHL's new West Division.

He had three goals this season before Thursday's explosion. "Tonight," he said later, "was just like planting trees. Some years you plant 12 and five or six grow. And some years, they all come up."

They almost all came up against the Flyers. Berenson missed his first shot and then scored on each of his next five against goalie Doug Favell. He had one goal in the first period, four in the second and one in the third.

Berenson's flurry tied two NHL records. His four second period goals tied the mark for a single period set by Harvey "Busher" Jackson of the Toronto Maple Leafs in 1934 and tied by Max Bentley of the Chicago Black Hawks in 1943.

The six goals for the game tied the modern NHL mark set by Syd Howe of the Detroit Red Wings in 1944.

In Thursday's other games, Montreal got past Pittsburgh 5-4 and Detroit rapped Minnesota 5-2.

CHS Grad Plays For Wittenberg Junior Varsity

SPRINGFIELD — Steve Carroll, Wittenberg University freshman from Circleville, saw action as a second-team cornerback on the undefeated Tiger junior varsity football team in 1968.

The 5-9, 165-pound defensive back played his high school football at Circleville High School. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Ray Carroll, 739 Circle Drive, Circleville.

Wittenberg's JV team has now won its last eight games over a three-year period. The 1968 team won easily over Ohio Wesleyan, 34-14, Muskingum, 41-7, and Otterbein 61-0.

Fearless Forecaster Sees Browns Victory

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Dallas, Los Angeles and Baltimore should continue to march along in the National Football League Sunday with St. Louis and Cleveland.

Philadelphia might even win one and the standings of the tight Central Division could be scrambled again after the Green Bay-Minnesota game.

The New York Jets have a chance to just about wrap up the Eastern Division of the American Football League but the Kansas City-Oakland-San Diego race should continue in the West.

Last week's score was 10-3 (6-2 in the NFL, 4-1 in the AFL)

Logan Elm Basketball Has 55 Candidates For Season

Logan Elm High School had 55 candidates for freshmen, reserve and varsity basketball teams according to Chuck Pritchard, head basketball mentor.

Pritchard is assisted by Vic Pontius, veteran reserve cage coach, and Don Burger, this year's freshman coach.

Among the candidates seeking varsity positions are seniors Royce Woolever, the 6-9 center; Dennis Karschner, 6-3 forward who started last year; Dan Cooper, a 5-11 forward, and Paul Winks.

Junior candidates are headed by returning starter Danny Fausnaugh, a 5-7 guard. Other juniors are D. J. Humphrey, Rodney Riddle, Jeff Jones, K. C. Jones, Dan Ankrom, Dale Hartley, Steve Swank and Bob McAfee.

LOGAN Elm lost two starters through graduation. They were guard Dale Jenne and forward Eddie Young.

Pritchard has been drilling his squad in the basic fundamentals of the game this week and has not yet divided the candidates into groups of five.

When asked who he thought the team to beat would be in the Scioto Valley Conference this year, Pritchard replied, "You always have to think about yourself. But Westfall has some starters back and had a tremendous reserve team. They should be much better than they were last year."

Mustang Back Plugged For State Honors

Westfall High School is boosting John Furniss for All-Ohio honors.

The 5-8, 170 pound junior played both offense and defense for the Mustangs during the past season.

He runs the 40 yard dash in 4.8 seconds.

On offense this year Furniss carried the ball 143 times and gained nearly a mile — 1,683 yards — an average of 11-6 yards per try.

HE has scored 27 touchdowns and eight extra points for a total of 170 points.

He was the top scorer in the Scioto Valley Conference.

On defense, he was rated as one of the top linebackers in the league according to his coach, Dave Katterhenrich. Furniss intercepted five passes during the season, averaged six tackles a game and recovered three fumbles.

Furniss takes coaching well, and his attitude and cooperation are as good as any coach could ever hope for, Katterhenrich states.

Last year as a junior Furniss gained over 850 yards rushing, made first team All-Scioto Valley conference both offense and defense, first team offense All-Central District and honorable mention All-Ohio.

U.S. Is Favored In Davis Cup Tilt

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Art Ashe, Clark Graebner and fast courts make the U.S. Davis Cup team an overwhelming favorite against India in their interzone final beginning Saturday, and Indian coach Luis Ayala knows it.

"It's an uphill battle," said the former top amateur from Chile today. He added that the U.S. could win all five matches.

Say Navy Wants Ivy League Ball

BALTIMORE (AP) — The U.S. Naval Academy is looking toward a return to Ivy League competition to give its sagging football fortunes a boost, the Baltimore Sun said Thursday.

A story in Friday morning editions, by staff writer James H. Jackson, said Navy officials would explore the possibility of scheduling Ivy League schools by the mid 1970s.

Archer Leads In Hawaiian Golf Clash

HONOLULU (AP) — George Archer shot an eight under par 64 Thursday for a one-stroke lead in the first round of the $125,000 Hawaiian International golf tournament.

"I played so bad and scored so good," Archer described his scramble. "I was raking it out from underneath, and bouncing it through bunkers all day. Well, you get days like that—it makes up for all the bad bounces."

One stroke back was Dick Lotz, 26-year-old San Francisco Bay Area golfer.

The field gave the Waialae course a fearful drubbing. In all, 47 broke par.

Mac McLendon a PGA school flunkout on his first try, had a six-under 66, along with little-known Ken Ellsworth, former Los Angeles State College star.

Former amateur champion Deane Beman, Miller Barber, Steve Reid and Bob McAllister had 67. Australian Bruce Crampton and National Open champion Lee Trevino were in the group of 68s.

Billy Casper, the tournament favorite, shot a 70, Arnold Palmer 71 and defending champion Dudley Wysong 72.

Red Berenson Scores Hat Trick, Encores

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Red Berenson scored the first three-goal hat trick of his National Hockey League career Thursday night and he liked the feeling so much that he did it again.

The six-goal night earned a spot in the record book for Berenson, who led St. Louis to an 8-0 romp over Philadelphia.

Berenson had managed a total of 14 goals in 166 NHL games before being traded to the expansionist Blues last year. He responded with a 22-goal season and was named Most Valuable Player of the NHL's new West Division.

He had three goals this season before Thursday's explosion. "Tonight," he said later, "was just like planting trees. Some years you plant 12 and five or six grow. And some years, they all come up."

They almost all came up against the Flyers. Berenson missed his first shot and then scored on each of his next five against goalie Doug Favell. He had one goal in the first period, four in the second and one in the third.

Berenson's flurry tied two NHL records. His four second period goals tied the mark for a single period set by Harvey "Busher" Jackson of the Toronto Maple Leafs in 1934 and tied by Max Bentley of the Chicago Black Hawks in 1943.

Bucks, Bobcats Seek Victories

By HAROLD PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State and Ohio University bid to continue their winning ways Saturday but the Bobcats have the tougher assignment.

Coach Woody Hayes' second-ranked Buckeyes journey to Madison for a Big Ten engagement with winless Wisconsin while Ohio U. visits once-beaten Bowling Green in the top Mid-American Conference game of the day.

The Buckeyes, 6-0 overall and 4-0 in the conference, are a prohibitive favorite to make Wisconsin their 11th straight victim even though quarterback Rex Kern is out of the lineup.

Kern, nursing a twisted ankle, will be rested for next week's battle at Iowa but Ron Maciejowski, the No. 2 quarterback, is counted on to fill the gap.

Ohio State and Michigan are deadlocked for first place and neither can afford to slip before their big showdown tiff Nov. 23 in Columbus.

Coach Bill Hess' Bobcats already own a piece of the MAC title and are headed for the Tangerine Bowl. But the Cats could become the first Mid-Am team to post a perfect league record since 1960 with a victory over the Falcons.

BG, under new Coach Don Nehlen, has an impressive 5-1-1 mark. The Falcons would like to snap Ohio's seven game string. If they do, Ohio and Miami would be co-champions on 5-1 marks.

In other top attractions, Kent State (0-8) plays at Marshall (0-7-1); Louisville is at Cincinnati; Dayton at Miami; Xavier at Toledo and Baldwin-Wallace at Akron.

Marshall has the nation's longest winless streak — 19 — while Kent is suffering through its worst season in 32 years. The game rates a toss-up.

Cincinnati (3-3-1) tries to crack Louisville's four-game winning streak in a Missouri Valley contest. The visiting Cardinals share first place with a 2-0 mark while UC has a 1-2 record in MVC play.

The Bearcats, paced by quarterback Greg Cook, No. 2 in the nation in passing and total offense, can score but have a porous defense that is allowing 34 points a game.

Miami (6-2) will be out to avenge a 7-6 loss to Dayton (3-4) last year. The slumping Flyers haven't won at Oxford since 1954.

Toledo (5-2-1) looks to Roland Moss to pace the offense in the Rockets' home finale against Xavier (4-3). The Musketeers are sparked by quarterback Jerry Buckmaster.

Unbeaten Baldwin-Wallace, 7-0, which last Saturday clinched the Ohio Conference title by beating Ohio Wesleyan, runs into rugged Akron (5-2). The Zips represent a major roadblock to Jackets' hopes for a perfect season.

The others:

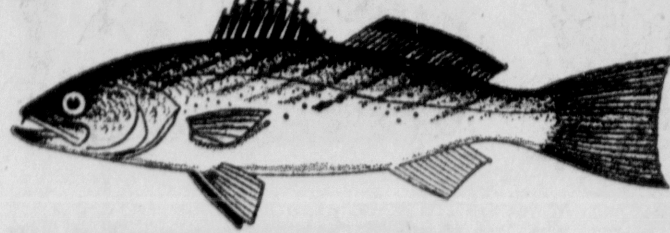

Capital at Wooster; Oberlin at Ohio Wesleyan; Heidelberg at Muskingum; Otterbein at Hiram; Wittenberg at Denison; Ohio Northern at Kalamazoo; Hamilton at Kenyon; Mount Union at Wilmington; West Virginia Wesleyan at Marietta; Olivet at Bluffton; John Carroll at Findlay; Anderson at Defiance; Ashland at Hope; Kentucky State at Central State and Adelbert at Carnegie-Mellon.
